TWO CENTS

REBEL GUN RUINED.

Some Details of Bombardment In Subig Bay.

THE MONTEREY ALMOST STRUCK.

Shot From the Krupp Cannon of the Rebels Passed Near Her Smokestack. Gallant Work Done by the Landing Party—One American Wounded.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Acting Secretary Allen of the navy department received a cable from Rear Admiral Watson giving a brief account of the engagement at Subig bay.

It was dated the 24th, at Manila, and said:

"Mandora discovered heavy gun mounted opposite Kalaklan point, Subig bay; exchanged shots with Charleston, Sent Charleston, Monterey, Concord and Zafiro with detachment of marines and sailors from Baltimore to capture and destroy. Attacked insurgent position 23d; after bombardment landing party carried entrenchments, dispossessed enemy and destroyed one 16 centimeter Krupp gun. Casualties: William Shepherd, apprentice, second class, Charleston, seriously wounded; Charles Hafke, coal passer, Concord, heat prostration.

"Insurgent fire heavy, but poorly aimed. Enemy's loss unknown. Full report mailed."

The important feature of the engagement is the fact which is disclosed that the insurgents have been able to obtain Krupp guns. It was known at the time of the outbreak of the insurgents against the Americans that the artillery of the insurgents consisted of a few obsolescent guns captured from the Spaniards.

Acting Secretary Allen said that it was evident that the navy at Manila did not intend to allow any fort to be erected by the insurgents which can be reached by the ships, and he was convinced that the squadron under Admiral Watson would be able to keep the shores guarded and repeat the lesson of Saturday if the insurgents are found to be operating on the coast.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—Following are some of the details of the bombardment in Subig bay:

The Monterey began the advance upon the town, which was about three miles east of the monitor's anchorage. The Charleston, Concord and Zafiro followed.

The Monterey opened fire with her secondary and main batteries, the Charleston and Concord joining immediately. The insurgent cannon answered, the first shot passing close to the Monterey's smokestack. The gun was fired twice only.

The American bombarding became general. Later the Monterey advanced to a range of 600 yards, using her main battery. Two hundred and fifty men were landed about 800 yards east of the cannon under a severe shore Mauser fire. The men from the Charleston were the first to reach the beach, but the Concord's men were first at the gun. The cannon was found to be a 16-centimeter Krupp gun, presumably obtained from the Spaniards.

The Americans had one wounded.

Cadet Brinser, with the Concord's launch armed with a Gatling, did excellent work on the left of the landing party. Captain Myers of the marines captured muzzle-loading field piece. Lieutenant McDonald was in command of the landing party, and the movement was splendidly executed and controlled.

The numbers of the Filipinos here could not be ascertained and no dead were seen.

The Monterey fired for four hours—21 shots from her 10-inch guns and 17 from her 12-inch guns.

The town, which was riddled with shells, took fire at several points.

DEATHS FROM DISEASE.

A Cablegram Sent by General Otis Giving Names of Men Dying in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The war department received the following cablegram from General Otis:

MANILA, Sept. 24.

Rambo, E, Fourth infantry; 21st, John Leclaire, I, Thirteenth infantry; 22d, Martin Johnson, D, Third infantry; 23d, Benjamin Tolofson, B, Third infantry; colites, chronic, at Jolo, Frank E. Armstrong, H, Twenty-third infantry; drowned, accidentally, at Bacolod, Negros, 12th, Sergeant Frederick Simmes, band, Sixth infantry, pneumonia; 16th, John Nolan, H, Nineteenth infantry, diarrhoea, chronic; 17th, Louis E. Corbett, D, Ninth infantry, typhoid fever; William H. Casey, G, Fourth infantry, appendicitis; 18th, Thomas Holliday, A, Twenty-fourth infantry, paralysis, ascending; 20th, Shubell A. Snow, G, Twenty-first infantry. OTIS.

Sailed With Troops For Philippines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The transport Sherman sailed for Manila with the Thirtieth regiment, United States volunteers, and a detachment of 350 recruits for the Eleventh cavalry and the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh volunteer regiments.

REPUBLICS TOGETHER.

Steyn Said if Transvaal Is Whipped, the British Would Soon Control His Country.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Transvaal situation presents no new features. Dispatches from Johannesburg this morning report a complete dislocation of the rand mining industry. The exodus continues, and all the mines are closing.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, a pro-Boer organ, says:

"Both President Steyn and Mr. Fischer (of the Orange Free State executive) inform me that the volksraad is absolutely unanimous that the two republics should stand or fall together. President Steyn said:

"Suppose we remained neutral and the Transvaal were conquered. It is not likely that we would be long permitted to stand outside British control. Let a rich gold field be discovered and what would become of us?"

PRO-BOER MEETING FAILED.

English Sympathizers Abused Speakers and Turned Tide of Demonstration.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The attempt to hold a pro-Boer anti-war demonstration in Trafalgar square, London, resulted in a drastic failure. Thousands assembled, but not to support the speakers. On the contrary the crowd waved union jacks and sang the national anthem and "Rule Britannia" like mighty invocations.

The speakers who were quite inaudible, were received with groans, decayed apples and eggs and other missiles. There were cheers for Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, and hisses for President Kruger. Some soldiers who were present were carried shoulder high by the crowd.

There were several ugly rushes for the platforms, which were surrounded by opponents of the demonstration, who yelled fiercely. Finally the mounted police were telephoned for to clear the square. Batons were freely used, several persons were trodden upon by the horses and 30 arrests were made.

The opponents of the meeting finally proposed resolutions in support of the government's policy, which were carried amid wild enthusiasm.

To Send Troops to South Africa.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 25.—The Australian military commanders will meet here on Thursday next to prepare a scheme for the dispatch of a United Australian contingent to South Africa.

FOR DEWEY'S COMING.

New York Reception Arrangements About Finished.

SOME VETERANS TO PARADE.

Men Representing Other Organizations Than the G. A. R. Expected to Appear in the Parade—Ex-Confederates Were Arranging to Be Represented.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—All the general arrangements for the reception of Admiral Dewey are now completed, and only a few minor details are left to be settled. The majority of these cannot be attended to until the admiral has arrived and his wishes have been consulted.

The committee on stands will hold its final meeting today and decide exactly what will be the capacity of the new stands. If the committee stands for all the expenditures it has authorized it will have spent more than $45,000 in excess of the first appropriation made to it of $30,000, and $4,000 more than it has in sight even if the municipal assembly votes to give it the additional $25,000 that is to be asked for at Tuesday's meeting of the aldermen and council.

For the odd $70,000 expended the committee has furnished about 20,000 seats to the ticket committee, 4,000 on the city hall stands, 6,000 for the school children, 10,000 for the municipal assembly and 25,000 for the veterans of the G. A. R., a total of about 40,500 seats for $74,000.

Governor De Forrest of Wyoming has telegraphed asking leave to withdraw his previous refusal to participate in the celebration. The reply was sent that New York would be pleased to welcome him.

Concerning the committee of seven that is to attend Admiral Dewey during his stay in this city, Mr. Foster said he had received a reply in writing from Chauncey Depew and in person from Richard Croker and William McAdoo. Mr. Croker said the committee could make any use of him they desired, and that he was ready to do anything in his power to help along the success of the celebration. With the exception of Levi P. Morton and W. C. Whitney, all the members of the committee had accepted. Neither of the last two had been heard from.

Some veterans of the civil war will participate in the land parade in honor of Dewey despite the decision of the officials of the Grand Army of the Republic not to order out different posts. Among the organizations which have decided to parade are two platoons of the Medal of Honor legion, under General T. S. Peck of Burlington, Vt. Those who will parade will be largely members of the New York commandery, but other commanderies will be represented. All of these men are members of the Grand Army.

The Loyal Legion nominated several of its staff to parade.

There will be two organizations numbering 100 men of the Duryea zouaves of the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth New York volunteers. There will be a contingent from the Eleventh veteran regiment association of the Civil war.

The Hawkins zouaves and two full Grand Army of the Republic posts are arranging to take part in the parade. Already 500 veterans have decided to parade, and by Tuesday it is expected that 1,200, the limit set by General Roe, will have sent in applications.

The Confederate veterans, who had also decided not to parade, are now arranging to have a representation of their organization in the procession.

HEROES TO GREET DEWEY.

Arrangements Made For Tenth Pennsylvania's Trip—To Give Philadelphia a Cannon.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 25.—Arrangements are completed for the Tenth regiment's trip to New York to participate in the land and naval pageants in honor of the triumphal homecoming of Admiral Dewey. Colonel James E. Barnett gave his sanction to the plans by telegrams from Markleton.

The completed schedule provides for the departure of one battalion of the Tenth from Union station next Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. The companies to assemble here will be A of Monongahela City, Capt. Gustave Schaaf; B of New Brighton, Captain Harry

Watson; H of Washington, Pa., Captain Alonzo S. Porter, and K of Waynesburg, Captain Thomas S. Crago.

The other companies will assemble at Greensburg, forming a second battalion, and from there the regiment will be on one train.

In the second battalion will be Companies D of Connellsburg, Captain Huston A. Crow; C of Uniontown, Captain Daniel Bierer; E of Mount Pleasant, Captain James Loar, and I of Greensburg, Captain William Finney. Majors H. C. Cuthbertson of New Brighton and Everhart Bierer of Uniontown, together with all the staff officers, will accompany the regiment.

From Greensburg the Tenth will go direct to Harrisburg. There the heroes will be equipped with guns and side arms.

The Tenth will be landed in the Quaker City Thursday evening. The members of the regiment will then march to the Third regiment's armory, where they will be banqueted by the members of that organization.

After the banquet the Tenth will be entertained at a smoker, to be given by the Third regiment. On the morning of Sept. 29 the Tenth will march to Washington square, near Independence hall, where the presentation ceremonies of the gift of a cannon will take place.

The cannon is one that Colonel Barnett brought back with the regiment from the Philippines, having formerly been used by the Spaniards.

He will formally present it to the mayor of the city, who will receive it and respond to the speech of Colonel Barnett on behalf of the citizens of Philadelphia. Dinner will be served to the visiting veterans at the exposition building, and shortly after noon the special train will leave Philadelphia for New York, arriving there in the evening.

The Tenth will be the guests of the Eighth regiment of New York national guard, and will be quartered at this regiment's armory while in the city.

NOTED CONVICT CAUGHT.

Lynch, Who Had Escaped From the Penitentiary at Columbus, Captured Near That City.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25.—James Lynch, the noted burglar and diamond robber, who escaped from the penitentiary several days ago, was captured at Shepard's station, near this city.

Lynch had disguised himself as an old man, walking with a cane, and was recognized only by his voice by one of the city detectives who happened to be in the vicinity looking for him.

Lynch took to his heels, but was brought to a halt by a fusilade of bullets sent after him. He claimed that a guard aided him to escape.

Annual Succoth Pilgrimage.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25.—The annual Succoth pilgrimage to the National Farm school, near here, took place Sunday. The feature of the pilgrimage was the dedication of five new buildings. Among those who took part in the dedicatory exercises were the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf and Mayor Ashbridge of Philadelphia and Adjutant General Stewart and Surgeon General Shoemaker of the national guard of Pennsylvania. Dr. Wise of Cincinnati conducted services in the chapel.

Ohio Regiments Held Reunion.

BARNESVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—The Third and Fifty-second Ohio regiments held reunions here. The Third regiment elected the following officers: President, W. Steiner; vice president, Philander Powell; secretary and treasurer, T. P. O'Shea. Fifty-second—President, T. D. Neighbor; vice presidents, Frank Leslie, J. C. Harrison, J. N. Hunt, James Kinsley, J. C. Brown, Peter Griffin, S. Rothacker, Lud Mills, H. B. Treat, F. B. Stewart.

Troops Left For San Francisco.

ATLANTA, Sept. 25.—Six companies of the Twenty-ninth infantry, which was recruited at Fort McPherson, left for San Francisco via El Paso. Colonel Hardin, with headquarters and six companies, left for the coast some days before.

Wants to Manufacture Aluminum.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25.—Thomas Braniff, Jr., petitioned the department of encouragement for permission to establish a wholly new industry here, which is the manufacture of aluminum. He states the capital employed will not be less than $1,000,000.

Sergeant Lynch Died in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—General Brooke, at Havana, notified the war department of the death at Matanzas on the 22nd inst. of Sergeant John Lynch of Company G, Second cavalry, from an unknown cause.

EVIDENCES OF GUILT.

Prominent Swede Arrested For Murder, at Jamestown.

UNFORTUNATE GIRL WAS KILLED.

She Had Been Much In His Company. Handle of the Man's Razor Found at Scene of the Crime—Blood on His Clothing—Victim Identified.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The young woman murdered at Falconer was identified by Rev. P. Martinson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, as Miss Emily Adolphson, a house servant and a member of his congregation.

Physicians conducting the autopsy discovered that the girl would become a mother within a few months.

The police learned that the murdered girl had been much in the company of a young man named Frank Vennerholm of this city.

They visited Vennerholm's boarding house, found the young man in bed and arrested him. A search of the room brought to view a vest and pair of trousers covered with mud and blood; a pair of shoes and a pair of stockings soaked with water, and in a trunk was found a white shirt with the bosom heavily spattered with blood together with a handkerchief in the same condition.

The ground in the vicinity of the place of the murder was thoroughly searched and the handle of a razor with the blade broken was found. The handle was shown to Vennerholm's brother, who had not been informed of the arrest, and he at once pronounced it the handle of his brother Frank's razor. Vennerholm is prominent among the Swedish young people of the city and an Odd Fellow.

A woman's cries for help attracted the attention of three boys in the village of Falconer. The boys ran in the direction whence the cries came and heard a feeble voice saying "here I am." The voice came from a clump of bushes near the Chautauqua lake outlet which runs through the village. The boys heard some one running through the bushes, while the woman was found to have been dragged to the edge of the water and dropped in.

The body was pulled to the bank. When a physician arrived the woman was dead. Her throat had been cut from ear to ear. The ground in the vicinity gave evidence of a struggle.

MORE VOLUNTEERS ARRIVED.

Some Companies of the First Montana Came on the Valencia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The United States transport Valencia, having on board those companies of the First Montana regiment, United States volunteers, not brought by the Zealandia, arrived here 12 days from Yokohama. A committee of Montanians met the Valencia in a tug.

Apart from the 28 invalids on board, sent out of Manila hospitals, the health of all on board was excellent.

The troops will probably be landed today.

Among the passengers who also made the trip from Manila was Lieutenant Hawkins, Third infantry.

Frank Hawkins Arrived.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Frank D. Hawkins, son of the late Colonel Hawkins of the Tenth Pennsylvania, now second lieutenant of the Third infantry and formerly captain of Company D, Tenth Pennsylvania, reached here on the transport Valencia, which brought six companies of the First Montana volunteers from Manila. Lieutenant Hawkins left at once for his home at Washington, Pa.

NOT FORMING SUICIDE CLUBS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A massmeeting of Bohemian residents of Chicago was held to denounce those responsible for issuing a circular recently in which it was stated that Bohemians are in the custom of forming secret clubs among themselves for the express purpose of inducing suicides.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

15TH YEAR. NO. 91.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, SEPT. 25, 1899.

TWO CENTS

REBEL GUN RUINED.

Some Details of Bombardment In Subig Bay.

THE MONTEREY ALMOST STRUCK.

Shot From the Krupp Cannon of the Rebels Passed Near Her Smokestack. Gallant Work Done by the Landing Party—One American Wounded.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Acting Secretary Allen of the navy department received a cable from Rear Admiral Watson giving a brief account of the engagement at Subig bay.

It was dated the 24th, at Manila, and said:

"Mandora discovered heavy gun mounted opposite Kalaklan point, Subig bay; exchanged shots with Charleston. Sent Charleston, Monterey, Concord and Zafiro with detachment of marines and sailors from Baltimore to capture and sailors from Subig to destroy. Attacked insurgent position 23d; after bombardment landing party carried entrenchments, dispossessed enemy and destroyed one 16 centimeter Krupp gun. Casualties: William Shepherd, apprentice, second class, Charleston, seriously wounded; Charles Haffke, coal passer, Concord, heat prostration.

"Insurgent fire heavy, but poorly aimed. Enemy's loss unknown. Full report mailed."

The important feature of the engagement is the fact which is disclosed that the insurgents have been able to obtain Krupp guns. It was known at the time of the outbreak of the insurgents against the Americans that the artillery of the insurgents consisted of a few obsolete guns captured from the Spaniards.

Acting Secretary Allen said that it was evident that the navy at Manila did not intend to allow any fort to be erected by the insurgents which can be reached by the ships, and he was convinced that the squadron under Admiral Watson would be able to keep the shores guarded and repeat the lesson of Saturday if the insurgents are found to be operating on the coast.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—Following are some of the details of the bombardment in Subig bay:

The Monterey began the advance upon the town, which was about three miles east of the monitor's anchorage. The Charleston, Concord and Zafiro followed.

The Monterey opened fire with her secondary and main batteries, the Charleston and Concord joining immediately. The insurgent cannon answered, the first shot passing close to the Monterey's smokestack. The gun was fired twice only.

The American bombing became general. Later the Monterey advanced to a range of 600 yards, using her main battery. Two hundred and fifty men were landed about 800 yards east of the cannon under a severe shore Mauser fire. The men from the Charleston were the first to reach the beach, but the Concord's men were first at the gun. The gun was found to be a 16-centimeter Krupp gun, presumably obtained from the Spaniards.

The Americans had one wounded.

Cadet Brinser, with the Concord's launch armed with a Gatling, did excellent work on the left of the landing party. Captain Myers of the marines captured a muzzle-loading field piece. Lieutenant McDonald was in command of the landing party, and the movement was splendidly executed and controlled.

The numbers of the Filipinos here could not be ascertained and no dead were seen.

The Monterey fired for four hours—21 shots from her 10-inch guns and 17 from her 12-inch guns.

The town, which was riddled with shells, took fire at several points.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The transport Sherman sailed for Manila with the Thirtieth regiment, United States volunteers, and a detachment of 350 recruits for the Eleventh cavalry and the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh volunteer regiments.

REPUBLICS TOGETHER.

Steyn Said If Transvaal Is Whipped, the British Would Soon Control His Country.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Transvaal situation presents no new features. Dispatches from Johannesburg this morning report a complete dislocation of the rand mining industry. The exodus continues, and all the mines are closing.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, a pro-Boer organ, says:

"Both President Steyn and Mr. Fischer (of the Orange Free State executive) inform me that the volksraad is absolutely unanimous that the two republics should stand or fall together. President Steyn said:

"Suppose we remained neutral and the Transvaal were conquered. It is not likely that we would be long permitted to stand outside British control. Let a rich gold field be discovered and what would become of us?"

PRO-BOER MEETING FAILED.

English Sympathizers Abused Speakers and Turned Tide of Demonstration.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The attempt to hold a pro-Boer anti-war demonstration in Trafalgar square, London, resulted in a drastic failure. Thousands assembled, but not to support the speakers. On the contrary the crowd waved union

MARTHUS TH. STEYN.

jacks and sang the national anthem and "Rule Britannia" like mighty invocations.

The speakers who were quite inaudible, were received with groans, decayed apples and eggs and other missiles. There were cheers for Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, and hisses for President Kruger. Some soldiers who were present were carried shoulder high by the crowd.

There were several ugly rushes for the platforms, which were surrounded by opponents of the demonstration, who yelled fiercely. Finally the mounted police were telephoned for to clear the square. Batons were freely used, several persons were trodden upon by the horses and 30 arrests were made.

The opponents of the meeting finally proposed resolutions in support of the government's policy, which were carried amid wild enthusiasm.

To Send Troops to South Africa.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 25.—The Australian military commanders will meet here on Thursday next to prepare a scheme for the dispatch of a United Australian contingent to South Africa.

FOR DEWEY'S COMING.

New York Reception Arrangements About Finished.

SOME VETERANS TO PARADE.

Men Representing Other Organizations Than the G. A. R. Expected to Appear in the Parade—Ex-Confederates Were Arranging to Be Represented.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—All the general arrangements for the reception of Admiral Dewey are now completed, and only a few minor details are left to be settled. The majority of these cannot be attended to until the admiral has arrived and his wishes have been consulted.

The committee on stands will hold its final meeting today and decide exactly what will be the capacity of the new stands. If the committee stands for all the expenditures it has authorized it will have spent more than $45,000 in excess of the first appropriation made to it of $30,000, and $4,000 more than it has in sight even if the municipal assembly votes to give it the additional $25,000 that is to be asked for at Tuesday's meeting of the aldermen and council.

For the odd $70,000 expended the committee has furnished about 20,000 seats to the ticket committee, 4,000 on the city hall stands, 6,000 for the school children, 10,000 for the municipal assembly and 25,000 for the veterans of the G. A. R., a total of about 40,500 seats for $74,000.

Governor De Forrest of Wyoming has telegraphed asking leave to withdraw his previous refusal to participate in the celebration. The reply was sent that New York would be pleased to welcome him.

Concerning the committee of seven that is to attend Admiral Dewey during his stay in this city, Mr. Foster said he had received a reply in writing from Chautauque Depew and in person from Richard Croker and William Adeo. Mr. Croker said the committee could make any use of him they desired, and that he was ready to do anything in his power to help along the success of the celebration. With the exception of Levi P. Morton and W. C. Whitney, all the members of the committee had accepted. Neither of the last two had been heard from.

Some veterans of the civil war will participate in the land parade in honor of Dewey, despite the decision of the officials of the Grand Army of the Republic not to order out different posts. Among the organizations which have decided to parade are two platoons of the Medal of Honor legion, under General T. S. Peck of Burlington, Vt. Those who will parade will be largely members of the New York commandery, but other commanderies will be represented. All of these men are members of the Grand Army.

The Loyal Legion, nominated several of its staff to parade.

There will be two organizations numbering 100 men of the Duryea zouaves of the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth New York volunteers. There will be a contingent from the Eleventh veteran regiment association of the Civil war.

The Hawkins zouaves and two full Grand Army of the Republic posts are arranging to take part in the parade. Already 500 veterans have decided to parade, and by Tuesday it is expected that 1,200, the limit set by General Roe, will have sent in applications.

The Confederate veterans, who had also decided not to parade, are now arranging to have a representation of their organization in the procession.

HEROES TO GREET DEWEY.

Arrangements Made for Tenth Pennsylvania's Trip—To Give Philadelphia a Cannon.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 25.—Arrangements are completed for the Tenth regiment's trip to New York to participate in the land and naval pageants in honor of the triumphal homecoming of Admiral Dewey. Colonel James E. Barnett gave his sanction to the plans by telegram from Markleton.

The completed schedule provides for the departure of one battalion of the Tenth from Union station next Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. The companies to assemble here will be A of Monongahela City, Capt. Gustave Schaaf; B of New Brighton, Captain Harry Watson; H of Washington, Pa., Captain Alonso S. Porter, and K of Waynesburg, Captain Thomas S. Crago.

The other companies will assemble at Greensburg, forming a second battalion, and from there the regiment will be on one train.

In the second battalion will be Companies D of Connellsville, Captain Ernest A. Crow; C of Uniontown, Captain Daniel Bierer; E of Mount Pleasant, Captain James Loar, and I of Greensburg, Captain William Finney. Majors H. C. Cuttnertson of New Brighton and Everhart Bierer of Uniontown, together with all the staff officers, will accompany the regiment.

From Greensburg the Tenth will go direct to Harrisburg. There the heroes will be equipped with guns and side arms.

The Tenth will be landed in the Quaker City Thursday evening. The members of the regiment will then march to the Third regiment's armory, where they will be banqueted by the members of that organization.

After the banquet the Tenth will be entertained at a smoker, to be given by the Third regiment. On the morning of Sept. 29 the Tenth will march to Washington square, near Independence hall, where the presentation ceremonies of the gift of a cannon will take place.

The cannon is one that Colonel Barnett brought back with the regiment from the Philippines, having formerly been used by the Spaniards. He will formally present it to the mayor of the city, who will receive it and respond to the speech of Colonel Barnett on behalf of the citizens of Philadelphia. Dinner will be served to the visiting veterans at the exposition building, and shortly after noon the special train will leave Philadelphia for New York, arriving there in the evening.

The Tenth will be the guests of the Eighth regiment of New York national guard, and will be quartered at this regiment's armory while in the city.

NOTED CONVICT CAUGHT.

Lynch, Who Had Escaped From the Penitentiary at Columbus, Captured Near That City.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25.—James Lynch, the noted burglar and diamond robber, who escaped from the penitentiary several days ago, was captured at Shepards station, near this city.

Lynch had disguised himself as an old man, walking with a cane, and was recognized only by his voice by one of the city detectives who happened to be in the vicinity looking for him.

Lynch took to his heels, but was brought to a halt by a fusilade of bullets sent after him. He claimed that a guard aided him to escape.

Annual Succoth Pilgrimage.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25.—The annual Succoth pilgrimage to the National Farm school, near here, took place Sunday. The feature of the pilgrimage was the dedication of five new buildings. Among those who took part in the dedicatory exercises were the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf and Mayor Ashbridge of Philadelphia and Adjutant General Stewart and Surgeon General Shoemaker of the national guard of Pennsylvania. Dr. Wise of Cincinnati conducted services in the chapel.

Ohio Regiments Held Reunion.

BARNESVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—The Third and Fifty-second Ohio regiments held reunions here. The Third regiment elected the following officers: President, W. Steiner; vice president, Philander Powell; secretary and treasurer, T. P. O'Shea. Fifty-second—President, T. D. Neighbor; vice presidents, Frank Leslie, J. C. Harrison, J. N. Hunt, James Kinsley, J. WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—General Brooke, at Havana, notified the war department of the death at Matanzas on the 22nd inst. of Sergeant John Lynch of Company G, Second cavalry, from an unknown cause.

EVIDENCES OF GUILT.

Prominent Swede Arrested For Murder, at Jamestown.

UNFORTUNATE GIRL WAS KILLED.

She Had Been Much In His Company. Handle of the Man's Razor Found at Scene of the Crime—Blood on His Clothing—Victim Identified.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The young woman murdered at Falconer was identified by Rev. P. Martinson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, as Miss Emily Adolphson, a house servant and a member of his congregation.

Physicians conducting the autopsy discovered that the girl would have become a mother within a few months.

The police learned that the murdered girl had been much in the company of a young man named Frank Vennerholm of this city.

They visited Vennerholm's boarding house, found the young man in bed and arrested him. A search of the room brought to view a vest and pair of trousers covered with mud and blood; a pair of shoes and a pair of stockings soaked with water, and in a trunk was found a white shirt with the bosom heavily spattered with blood together with a handkerchief in the same condition.

The ground in the vicinity of the place of the murder was thoroughly searched and the handle of a razor with the blade broken was found. The handle was shown to Vennerholm's brother, who had not been informed of the arrest, and he at once pronounced it the handle of his brother Frank's razor. Vennerholm is prominent among the Swedish young people of the city and an Odd Fellow.

A woman's cries for help attracted the attention of three boys in the village of Falconer. The boys ran in the direction whence the cries came and heard a feeble voice saying "here I am." The voice came from a clump of bushes near the Chautauque lake outlet which runs through the village. The boys heard some one running through the bushes, while the woman was found to have been dragged to the edge of the water and dropped in.

The body was pulled to the bank. When a physician arrived the woman was dead. Her throat had been cut from ear to ear. The ground in the vicinity gave evidence of a struggle.

THE EAST END.

WILL BUILD A BRIDGE

Beaver County Commissioners to Expend $8,000

ON SMITH'S FERRY IMPROVEMENT

Work Will Be Started This Week and Several East End Men Will Be Employed—Scarcity of Boarding Houses Complaint About Disposal of Garbage.

The commissioners of Beaver county have let the contract for the construction of a bridge to span Beaver creek. The bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000 and will be built of stone and iron. Work will commence this week.

The teamsters who haul between Smith's Ferry and East End, and there is a large number of them, will rejoice at the action of the commissioners. In the past one driving to the ferry was compelled to drive around the hill near the Child's residence, but when the bridge is completed at least a fifth of a mile will be saved. Several men from the East End have been engaged to work on the new structure.

A SHORTAGE.

Additional Boarding Houses Required For the East End.

There is a scarcity of private boarding houses in East End at the present time and all those who do keep boarders are overcrowded. In one instance the meals are furnished for 20 cents, and this week a number of applicants for boarding have been refused. They are now boarding in the city. It is also stated the price of boarding in East End will be advanced soon, owing to the advancement in the price of groceries.

COMPLAINING.

People Insist on Disposing of Their Garbage Illegally.

Some people living along the river bank and some along the railroad have been dumping their garbage over the river bank and throwing it over the high fence on the railroad tracks. Sanitary Officer Burgess is now conducting an investigation, and within a short time, it is thought, the guilty parties will be served with a notice. The odor arising from these places is at times sickening.

NEARLY 200 SCHOLARS.

Rally Day and Special Services at the Second Presbyterian Church.

At the rally day service in the Second Presbyterian church yesterday the report of the secretary showed 194 scholars in the school.

There will be services in the church every evening next week at which the pastor will be assisted by several other ministers. Communion service will be held on the second Sunday of October.

A NEW CASE.

An Addition Made to the Second Presbyterian Sunday School.

A handsome library case has been ordered by the officials of the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church and it is thought it will be placed in position this week. It has a capacity of several hundred volumes of ordinary size.

A valuable dog owned by Motorman "Doc" Thomas died Saturday morning.

Among the Sick.

Miss Maude Elliott has recovered from a severe illness caused by catarrh.

MAJ. JOHN B. MILLS,

A Man With a History, Faces Mayor Bough This Morning.

Officer White yesterday afternoon found Maj. John B. Mills on Second street with a jag. Mills was taken to city hall and this morning got $7.60, which he paid. Mills is a man with a history. At the age of 20 he enlisted in the war of the rebellion and served four years, four months and ten days, coming out with the title of major attached to his name. He then studied law in the office of Judge Nichols, was admitted to the bar and practiced for six years, being very successful, and was recognized as a very bright lawyer. He then took to drink and rapidly lost his practice. After a few years he gathered himself together and went to teaching school and gained some reputation. He then published an arithmetic but couldn't stand prosperity and went down again. At present he is living in a little hut across the river and every time he draws his pension he comes to this city and proceeds to have a time.

THEY WANTED OUT.

A Car Blew a Plug In Washington Street and There Was Some Excitement.

Saturday afternoon as a car packed with people was coming up Washington street a plug blew out and it started down the hill again. There was much consternation among the passengers, and some of them made wild efforts to get off. The motorman stopped his car and soon repaired the damage.

The Week's Shows.

Little Trixie, at the Grand tomorrow night, is a well written and clever comedy-drama in which May Smith Robbins has a good opportunity to show to advantage. She appears in it in six different characters, and displays her versatility in every one. There are some thrilling situations in the piece and lively and musical climaxes. The girls in the company are said to be pretty and versatile and add some good specialties.

"Uncle Seth Haskins," which comes to the Grand Wednesday, contains all the elements calculated to public favor, and certainly has been mounted with every care as to detail. The most striking feature is the explosion and the saw mill scene in the second and third acts.

LIVERPOOL IS ON TOP

The Local Ball Team Now County Champions.

WELLSVILLE BADLY DEFEATED

In the Game Saturday Afternoon—They Were Never In It With the Local Club and For Five Innings Didn't Score a Run Notes on the Game.

The Liverpool ball team had an easy time with the Wellsville club Saturday, defeating them by a score of 10 to 1, and thus winning three games in a series of five and the championship of the county.

How It Was Done.

The game was one of the best ever played and the local infield worked like clocks. Wellsville was shutout for the first five innings, and in that time made only two hits. They scored in the sixth on a three-base hit by Curtis and a single by Brooks. That was the end of their run getting, as they were shutout in the remaining three innings.

Liverpool scored one in the third on a two-base hit by Carey and a single by J. Rrear. They were shutout in the fourth, but made three in the fifth on a single by Calhoun, a double by Carey and errors by Patterson and Brooks. They didn't score in the sixth, but made five in the seventh on a double by Godwin, a home run by Carey, a single by C. Davis, a double by C. Rrear, a single by McShane and two bases on balls. Patterson went in the box for Wellsville this inning, but it was no use and he was hit as hard as Miller. The local team scored their last run on a two-base hit by J. Rrear and errors by Brooks and Emmerling. The score:

Notes.

George Carey was heartily applauded every time he came to bat.

McShane had Patterson's measure and struck him out three times.

Godwin played second and Rrear shortstop in splendid style, accepting all chances that came their way.

The Wellsville people are still trying to figure out how it was all done.

A record of the five games played is as follows: East Liverpool 9, Wellsville 8, at Wellsville, Aug. 12; Liverpool 7, Wellsville 8, at Liverpool, Aug. 19; Wellsville 13, Liverpool 0, at Wellsville, Sept. 2; Liverpool 13, Wellsville 4, at Liverpool, Sept. 9; Liverpool 10, Wellsville 1, at Liverpool, Sept. 23.

THOMAS RUSSELL,

An Aged Resident, Died Yesterday at His Home on Sixth Street.

The death of Mr. Thomas Russell, one of East Liverpool's oldest and highly respected citizens, was quite a shock to his family and many friends. He was taken sick Thursday noon, and passed to his better home Sunday morning at 6:40. He was aged 73 years, having been a resident of the city 50 years. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss, viz: William, Mrs. Charles Harker, Mrs. James O'Hanlon, of this city, and Mrs. Albert Lisby, of Toronto, O. Funeral will take place from St. Aloysius church Tuesday morning at 8:30. Interment in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Friends of the family respectfully invited to attend. Remains can be viewed at his late residence from 6 to 9 o'clock Monday evening.

THE WARREN POTTERY

Is Almost Completed and Will Start Up In the Middle of October.

Speaking of the new Brewer pottery at Warren, the Chronicle says a building 30x242 feet is now nearing completion. The kiln, which is 40 feet high and 18 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 10,000 jugs, will be completed this week. The machinery has been ordered and will arrive soon. The plant will make a specialty of the Brewer patent jug, besides other earthenware. The company expects to be operating the factory by the middle of October. During the course of the winter the company will put up another building and kiln, a duplicate of the present structure, thus carrying out the original plan of a two-kiln pottery.

That's nothing," he says. But he is mistaken. What begins in catarrh may end in consumption.

It is a foul disease at its worst when it involves the lung tissues.

For catarrh and for diseases of the throat and lungs in general the standard medicine is Dr.

Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It is recommended by physicians who have tested its efficacy and wondered at its cures. It not only destroys the disease, but it purifies the blood and strengthens the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition.

"For twelve years I was a sufferer from catarrh and was treated by one of the best physicians in the state of North Carolina, who said the trouble had reached my lungs," writes Mr. J. M. Patton, of Clotho, Transylvania Co., N. C. "I grew worse every day until I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines. Will say, one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cured me and to-day I am well and hearty and I will say further that my former physician, Dr. W. M. Lyday, recommends Dr. Pierce's medicine to me and to others. I am sure your medicines will cure any case of catarrh that exists. I recommend them to all."

WILL BUILD A BRIDGE

Beaver County Commissioners to Expend $8,000

ON SMITH'S FERRY IMPROVEMENT

Work Will Be Started This Week and Several East End Men Will Be Employed--Scarcity of Boarding Houses Complaint About Disposal of Garbage.

The commissioners of Beaver county have let the contract for the construction of a bridge to span Beaver creek. The bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000 and will be built of stone and iron. Work will commence this week.

The teamsters who haul between Smith's Ferry and East End, and there is a large number of them, will rejoice at the action of the commissioners. In the past one driving to the ferry was compelled to drive around the hill near the Child's residence, but when the bridge is completed at least a fifth of a mile will be saved. Several men from the East End have been engaged to work on the new structure.

A SHORTAGE.

Additional Boarding Houses Required For the East End.

There is a scarcity of private boarding houses in East End at the present time and all those who do keep boarders are overcrowded. In one instance the meals are furnished for 20 cents, and this week a number of applicants for boarding have been refused. They are now boarding in the city. It is also stated the price of boarding in East End will be advanced soon, owing to the advancement in the price of groceries.

COMPLAINING.

People Insist on Disposing of Their Garbage Illegally.

Some people living along the river bank and some along the railroad have been dumping their garbage over the river bank and throwing it over the high fence on the railroad tracks. Sanitary Officer Burgess is now conducting an investigation, and within a short time, it is thought, the guilty parties will be served with a notice. The odor arising from these places is at times sickening.

NEARLY 200 SCHOLARS.

Rally Day and Special Services at the Second Presbyterian Church.

At the rally day service in the Second Presbyterian church yesterday the report of the secretary showed 194 scholars in the school.

There will be services in the church every evening next week at which the pastor will be assisted by several other ministers. Communion service will be held on the second Sunday of October.

A NEW CASE.

An Addition Made to the Second Presbyterian Sunday School.

A handsome library case has been ordered by the officials of the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church and it is thought it will be placed in position this week. It has a capacity of several hundred volumes of ordinary size.

AT DRY RUN.

A Change in the Condition of Pennsylvania Avenue Made There.

For several days Street Commissioner Finley has had a number of men at work on Pennsylvania avenue at Dry Run. Many changes have been made and the place is in a much better condition now than it ever was.

Anderson Improving.

Word has been received from George

Anderson, now in the Catskill mountains, that he is already improving in health and has not been ill a day since he left home.

Personal.

Reverend Patterson, of Springfield, spent Saturday in East End calling on friends. He preached at the Long's Run church yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Beatty spent yesterday in East Palestine calling on friends.

Practice Games.

The high school and Entre Nous football clubs will play a practice game at Columbian park tomorrow afternoon.

Lost a Dog.

A valuable dog owned by Motorman "Doc" Thomas died Saturday morning.

Among the Sick.

Miss Maude Elliott has recovered from a severe illness caused by catarrh.

MAJ. JOHN B. MILLS,

A Man With a History, Faces Mayor Bough This Morning.

Officer White yesterday afternoon found Maj. John B. Mills on Second street with a jag. Mills was taken to city hall and this morning got $7.60, which he paid. Mills is a man with a history. At the age of 20 he enlisted in the war of the rebellion and served four years, four months and ten days, coming out with the title of major attached to his name. He then studied law in the office of Judge Nichols, was admitted to the bar and practiced for six years, being very successful, and was recognized as a very bright lawyer. He then took to drink and rapidly lost his practice. After a few years he gathered himself together and went to teaching school and gained some reputation. He then published an arithmetic but couldn't stand prosperity and went down again. At present he is living in a little hut across the river and every time he draws his pension he comes to this city and proceeds to have a time.

THEY WANTED OUT.

A Car Blew a Plug In Washington Street and There Was Some Excitement.

Saturday afternoon as a car packed with people was coming up Washington street a plug blew out and it started down the hill again. There was much consternation among the passengers, and some of them made wild efforts to get off. The motorman stopped his car and soon repaired the damage.

The Week's Shows.

Little Trixie, at the Grand tomorrow night, is a well written and clever comedy-drama in which May Smith Robbins has a good opportunity to show to advantage. She appears in it in six different characters, and displays her versatility in every one. There are some thrilling situations in the piece and lively and musical climaxes. The girls in the company are said to be pretty and versatile and add some good specialties.

"Uncle Seth Haskins," which comes to the Grand Wednesday, contains all the elements calculated to public favor, and certainly has been mounted with every care as to detail. The most striking feature is the explosion and the saw mill scene in the second and third acts.

A Canton License.

Marriage license has been issued at Canton to John Sprinker, of Rogers, and Emma Fligle, of Paris.

We were asked the other day, how does it come you don't have as high priced goods as some of the other stores? Our answer is, compare our 14 and 15 dollar suits with any 18 or 20 dollar suit in town. If they're not as good or better we will present you with a suit.

The Local Ball Team Now County Champions.

WELLSVILLE BADLY DEFEATED

In the Game Saturday Afternoon--They Were Never In It With the Local Club and For Five Innings Didn't Score a Run Notes on the Game.

The Liverpool ball team had an easy time with the Wellsville club Saturday, defeating them by a score of 10 to 1, and thus winning three games in a series of five and the championship of the county.

How It Was Done.

The game was one of the best ever played and the local infield worked like clocks. Wellsville was shutout for the first five innings, and in that time made only two hits. They scored in the sixth on a three-base hit by Curtis and a single by Brooks. That was the end of their run getting, as they were shutout in the remaining three innings.

Liverpool scored one in the third on a two-base hit by Carey and a single by J. R. Rark. They were shutout in the fourth, but made three in the fifth on a single by Calhoun, a double by Carey and errors by Patterson and Brooks. They didn't score in the sixth, but made five in the seventh on a double by Godwin, a home run by Carey, a single by C. Davis, a double by C. Rark, a single by McShane and two bases on balls. Patterson went in the box for Wellsville this inning, but it was no use and he was hit as hard as Miller. The local team scored their last run on a two-base hit by J. Rark and errors by Brooks and Emmerling. The score:

Notes.

George Carey was heartily applauded every time he came to bat.

McShane had Patterson's measure and struck him out three times.

Godwin played second and Rark shortstop in splendid style, accepting all chances that came their way.

The Wellsville people are still trying to figure out how it was all done.

A record of the five games played is as follows: East Liverpool 9, Wellsville 8, at Wellsville, Aug. 12; Liverpool 7, Wellsville 8, at Liverpool, Aug. 19; Wellsville 13, Liverpool 0, at Wellsville, Sept. 2; Liverpool 13, Wellsville 4, at Liverpool, Sept. 9; Liverpool 10, Wellsville 1, at Liverpool, Sept. 23.

THOMAS RUSSELL,

An Aged Resident, Died Yesterday at His Home on Sixth Street.

The death of Mr. Thomas Russell, one of East Liverpool's oldest and highly respected citizens, was quite a shock to his family and many friends. He was taken sick Thursday noon, and passed to his better home Sunday morning at 6:40. He was aged 73 years, having been a resident of the city 50 years. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss, viz: William, Mrs. Charles Harker, Mrs. James O'Hanlon, of this city, and Mrs. Albert Lisby, of Toronto, O. Funeral will take place from St. Aloysius church Tuesday morning at 8:30. Interment in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Friends of the family respectfully invited to attend. Remains can be viewed at his late residence from 6 to 9 o'clock Monday evening.

Is Almost Completed and Will Start Up In the Middle of October.

Speaking of the new Brewer pottery at Warren, the Chronicle says a building 30x242 feet is now nearing completion. The kiln, which is 40 feet high and 18 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 10,000 jugs, will be completed this week. The machinery has been ordered and will arrive soon. The plant will make a specialty of the Brewer patent jug, besides other earthenware. The company expects to be operating the factory by the middle of October. During the course of the winter the company will put up another building and kiln, a duplicate of the present structure, thus carrying out the original plan of a two-kiln pottery.

MERCER MAY BE RICH

Interested With Others In an Immense Estate

IN NEW YORK AND JERSEY

County Road Cases Not Settled Yet—The State Auditor Has Forwarded the Semi-Annual School Allowance to Hancock County—News of Chester and Vicinity.

Several years ago Johnson Mercer, who lives on the Finley road, about a mile back of Chester, made a trip to New York for the purpose of investigating an immense estate in which all the Mercers in this vicinity are interested. Some light on the subject was obtained, but nothing was done at the time toward extending the investigation. Mr. Mercer has been advised that interest in the investigation has again been revived and that attorneys who are working on the case assert the estate to be valued at not less than $50,000,000.

This estate was once the property of General Mercer, a resident of Virginia who joined Braddock's expedition against the French at Fort Duquesne and shared in the defeat of the English. The property this general owned is located in New York City and some in New Jersey. There are a large number of descendants of General Mercer, numbered among them being Mr. Mercer, of Chester, Webster Hunter and J. A. and W. H. Moon, of East Palestine.

Mr. Mercer is a carpenter by trade and for the past several weeks has been working in East End. While he is taking an interest in the proceedings he will not talk for publication.

TO SUPREME COURT.

Kenilworth-Chester Road Cases to be Carried Up.

In the matter of the establishment of a public road from a point at or near Kenilworth to Chester to take the place of that portion of the road used by the New Cumberland branch, John Burford and Grant McKinnon, who require compensation, having refused to accept the sums offered, the court will prosecute in the supreme court to ascertain what will be a just compensation.—Cumberland Courier.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS.

Hancock County Schools Expenses Are Very Light.

The state auditor has just sent to the Hancock County Treasurer Wilkins $1,024.56 to be added to the school fund. This is the semi-annual allowance, and is several dollars in advance of the amount sent the last school term.

Crop Is Short.

Winter apples may be very scarce this winter. Farmers say the drought has affected the crop very much so that they are falling to the ground very rapidly.

THEY TALKED FIGHT.

One Man Wanted to Whip the Whole Town but the Other Wasn't So Particular.

Saturday night after the show two young men got in a dispute on Sixth street, and one of them wanted to whip the whole town. The other fellow was not so particular, and desired to get at his adversary in some quiet place in a dark alley. Officer Whan appeared and the young men quieted down, much to the disgust of a large crowd who had been attracted by the wind work of the young men.

IN NEW YORK AND JERSEY

County Road Cases Not Settled Yet—The State Auditor Has Forwarded the Semi-Annual School Allowance to Hancock County—News of Chester and Vicinity.

Several years ago Johnson Mercer, who lives on the Finley road, about a mile back of Chester, made a trip to New York for the purpose of investigating an immense estate in which all the Mercers in this vicinity are interested. Some light on the subject was obtained, but nothing was done at the time toward extending the investigation. Mr. Mercer has been advised that interest in the investigation has again been revived and that attorneys who are working on the case assert the estate to be valued at not less than $50,000,000.

The result of the submission to popular vote of the proposition to issue $20,000 of bonds, for the purchase of the Bradshaw site for the Carnegie library, has shown that East Liverpool people, while not holding mass meetings and enthusing with wordy resolutions and wordier speeches, have just as highly appreciated Mr. Carnegie's generous offer as any of the other cities honored. The details are now completed, the city can purchase the site and notify Mr. Carnegie of its acceptance, and no time will be lost in getting the building erected. Some official recognition of Mr. Carnegie's generosity might fittingly be made by council and other public bodies.

ACRE OF BLAZING OIL

Two Men Burned to Death and Three Seriously Injured

BY THE DISASTER AT RAYL WELL

Thousands Visited the Scene of Wellsville's Disaster Yesterday—The Injured Men May Recover—A 125 Barrel Gusher Was Too Strong for the Drillers.

Two men were burned to death and three seriously injured by a terrible disaster in the Wellsville oil field Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred on the Rayl well, on the Ridinger farm, one-third of a mile north of Wellsville, on the Lisbon road. The ground was originally leased by Vance Todd and J. H. Johnson, of Wellsville, from Mrs. Slaughter, of Allegheny, and by them leased to John Rayl, of Wellsville, Harry Karns, of Pittsburgh, and S. Adams. The well was sunk about 50 feet south of the Lawson 100 barrel well, and came in at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. It proved to be the best in the field, 125 barrels natural.

Saturday morning they started to take out the sand pump to clean it. They got it up to within two feet of the top about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and had unscrewed one side of the cap when they found it was too strong for them and tried to put the cap back. The pressure forced the cap off and sent the oil up in a column 75 feet above the 52 foot derrick. The spray covered about an acre of ground and almost before the men working realized what had happened the gas had reached the boiler 40 feet away and the whole place was a sea of burning oil.

Charles Wilkinson, John H. Williams and Harry Karns had been working at the hole, and John Rayl and Charles Rogers were at the boiler. All were soon in flames. Karns was the first to run. He dashed northeast and jumped into a big water tank. Williams started for Little Yellow creek west, but became confused and ran twice around the Ridinger house and then north-west, rolling over the hill and down into the roadway. Parts of the flesh from his hands were found on top of the hill and his roll down the hill is marked by a streak of burnt grass. He died at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Wilkinson ran southwest. He was the worst burned. He fell as soon as he reached the top of the hill where he was making for Little Yellow creek, 150 feet away. He rolled over into the road and was probably dead before he struck the hill edge.

Rayl ran southwest from the boiler and was caught by J. M. Workman and rolled in the grass. Rogers ran down the road to an old stone spring and was caught and rolled in the roadway until the flames were out.

Williams was from this city, 35 years of age and leaves a wife. He formerly drove an express wagon for George Wells and was employed as a driller at the well. His body was brought to Harry Larkins' home in the West End and was buried at 10 o'clock today at Georgetown. He was a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

Wilkinson was 21 years of age, and was employed as a tool dresser. His home is in Jewett, O. He boarded with Mrs. Alfred McFall, Fourth street, Wellsville, and went there about a month ago from the East End, this city.

Rayl is reported improving today at his home in Wellsville. His body is badly burned. He is one of the owners of the well, 50 years of age and has a wife and three children.

Karns is 22, unmarried, a son of S. Dunc Karns, the old time oil magnate and Populist of Pittsburgh. He is burned on breast, head and face, but will recover. He is at the Rayl home.

Rogers is from Hookstown, 22 and single. He is burned about the arms and breast and is at the Central hotel, Wellsville. He will recover.

Wellsville Fire Department Had Hard Work With Their Chemicals.

That the disaster wasn't greater was due to the precaution of having a rope to keep off the crowd. When the explosion occurred the people fled in all directions.

The news was quickly carried to Wellsville and the fire department turned out. After hard work they succeeded in extinguishing the fire with chemicals from the Babcocks. The flow was then piped.

When the fire broke out Lantz's nitro glycerine wagon stood 40 feet away. An employe saw the danger, and seizing hold of the wagon dashed down the hill. Few of the crowd knew of the contents and the danger until the fire was over. Then they paled as they thought of the risk they had run and the danger braved by the man who hurried the explosive out of range.

ACRE OF BLAZING OIL

Two Men Burned to Death and Three Seriously Injured

BY THE DISASTER AT RAYL WELL

Thousands Visited the Scene of Wellsville's Disaster Yesterday — The Injured Men May Recover—A 125 Barrel Gusher Was Too Strong For the Drillers.

Two men were burned to death and three seriously injured by a terrible disaster in the Wellsville oil field Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred on the Rayl well, on the Ridinger farm, one-third of a mile north of Wellsville, on the Lisbon road. The ground was originally leased by Vance Todd and J. H. Johnson, of Wellsville, from Mrs. Slaughter, of Allegheny, and by them leased to John Rayl, of Wellsville, Harry Karns, of Pittsburgh, and S. Adams. The well was sunk about 50 feet south of the Lawson 100 barrel well, and came in at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. It proved to be the best in the field, 125 barrels natural.

Saturday morning they started to take out the sand pump to clean it. They got it up to within two feet of the top about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and had unscrewed one side of the cap when they found it was too strong for them and tried to put the cap back. The pressure forced the cap off and sent the oil up in a column 75 feet above the 52 foot derrick. The spray covered about an acre of ground and almost before the men working realized what had happened the gas had reached the boiler 40 feet away and the whole place was a sea of burning oil.

Charles Wilkinson, John H. Williams and Harry Karns had been working at the hole, and John Rayl and Charles Rogers were at the boiler. All were soon in flames. Karns was the first to run. He dashed northeast and jumped into a big water tank. Williams started for Little Yellow creek west, but became confused and ran twice around the Ridinger house and then north-west, rolling over the hill and down into the roadway. Parts of the flesh from his hands were found on top of the hill and his roll down the hill is marked by a streak of burnt grass. He died at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Wilkinson ran southwest. He was the worst burned. He fell as soon as he reached the top of the hill where he was making for Little Yellow creek, 150 feet away. He rolled over into the road and was probably dead before he struck the hill edge.

Rayl ran southwest from the boiler and was caught by J. M. Workman and rolled in the grass. Rogers ran down the road to an old stone spring and was caught and rolled in the roadway until the flames were out.

Williams was from this city, 35 years of age and leaves a wife. He formerly drove an express wagon for George Wells and was employed as a driller at the well. His body was brought to Harry Larkins' home in the West End and was buried at 10 o'clock today at Georgetown. He was a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

TWO FIRES IN A NIGHT

The Young Baby Carriage Works Gutted.

THE LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Mrs. Maggie Burlingame Had Her Home Entirely Destroyed and Only Had $800 Insurance—The Fire Department Did Good Work.

A disastrous fire occurred at an early hour this morning at the J. W. Young baby carriage factory on Broadway.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Doc Kinney was going to his home at the National House, when he smelled smoke. He stopped a short time at the corner of Cook street and Broadway in an effort to locate the fire, but was unsuccessful. He continued on down the street and saw flames coming out of the second story of the Young building. He at once sent in the alarm from the National House and then had the porter awaken all the people in the house and get them out on the street.

The city department answered the alarm at once and the East End department was on the scene in about 10 minutes. The fire when the department arrived had gone through the ceiling and had reached the first floor at a point directly under the room in which the excelsior and tow were stored.

The first line of hose was run into the lower floor and the fire extinguished there while two lines were put on the blaze upstairs. The smoke was so dense that it made the firemen sick, but they pluckily staid with their work and in about two hours had the fire out.

In the second story of the building was stored about 400 baby carriages, 200 pieces of glass, umbrellas, upholstering material, paper sacks, combs and towels, trays and varnish, and it is all about a total loss. The machinery down stairs is not damaged to any great extent. The insurance is $7,500, and it is thought it will fully cover the loss.

The building is owned by William Baggott, and is insured for $1,000. The walls are not damaged, but it will need a new roof, floor and several new partitions.

It is thought the fire originated from spontaneous combustion.

ANOTHER FIRE.

Mrs. Maggie Burlingame Had Her House Totally Destroyed.

About 6:30 o'clock fire was discovered at the home of Mrs. Maggie Burlingame, Calcutta road, and a telephone message was sent to the department. They responded at once and found the house one sheet of flame. It was right alongside of a stable and another house and the department succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading although the home of Mrs. Burlingame is a total loss. She had $500 insurance on the building and $300 on the house.

The high service water pressure was used at the fire, and with the plug not fully turned on it took five men to hold the hose, and the shingles on the roof of the house were ploughed off as though they had only been glued instead of nailed. One man who took hold of the hose was thrown about ten feet in the air before he dropped. He was not hurt.

WITH A PIECE OF CORSET STEEL

Four Prisoners Cut Through Nine Iron Bars

IN THE CELLS AT COUNTY JAIL

Only to Fall Into the Hands of Sheriff Gill and Deputy Supplee Who Were Watching—Two of the Men From This City and One From Wellsville.

LISBON, Sept. 25—[Special]—A jail delivery was due Saturday night which was only frustrated by the vigilance of Sheriff Gill and his deputies. Four of the nine prisoners are known to be implicated. These four for the last 10 days have been secretly engaged in filing the iron bars of two of the cell doors. Their plan was to file the lower bars and get into the hallway, the doors of which are not so strong.

The end of four bars were sawed off in the first door to the east and five in the fourth door. The filing was done by a corset steel, nicked by some means. When the filing was completed the men gave three cheers and waited for night, when they tied a blanket to the bars and all four pulled to bend the irons. When any noise was made they shuffled their feet, played a mouth organ and sang "We Won't Go Home Till Morning."

Sheriff Gill and Deputy Supplee were waiting in the hall, having been warned by a little girl a few days ago, and when the moment came surprised the men.

The four prisoners are: Forest M. Gray, of Wellsville, charged with obtaining a marriage license for himself and a married woman by perjury; Newton Croxall, of East Liverpool, sent up for highway robbery in the case of the Shaffer girls; Charles Anderson, of East Liverpool, charged with stealing $20 from a peddler, and Samuel Reed, of Salineville, charged with cutting with intent to kill.

The men were terribly disappointed when discovered by the sheriff. A curious feature about the worst prisoners who are confined in the county jail while trying to escape is that they pretend to be very religious and spend their spare time reading the Bible and singing hymns.

Some idea of the work done by the prisoners may be imagined when it is known that with the one piece of nicked corset steel they cut through nine iron bars, three-fourth inch thick and one and one-half inches wide.

When seen at his home this morning the gentleman said that he was very much impressed with his trip, and within the last 30 years much progress had been made by the foreign countries and especially Germany. While in France Mr. Reinartz heard much of the Dreyfus case, it being discussed by every body, who from newsboys to the highest officials everyone believed the captain guilty. Esteban is nothing short of a scoundrel, while Labori, counsel for Dreyfus is held high in the esteem of the French people for his fearlessness.

Against the Army Canteen.

CHARLESTON, Ill., Sept. 25.—The Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal church passed resolutions asking congress to unseat Congressman Robert of Utah, strongly condemning the army canteen and Attorney General Griggs for his canteen decision and calling upon President McKinley to see that the law is enforced and asking the president to have the canteen removed from the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Danville, Ill.

BOND ISSUE CARRIED

The City Will Get That $50,000 Library.

THE VOTE WAS NOT LARGE

But It Was Decidedly In Favor of Issuing Bonds In the Sum of $20,000 to Purchase a Library Site--What Council Will Do.

Saturday the people of the city by a vote of 619 to 61 decided that bonds in the sum of $20,000 should be issued to purchase a library site so that the offer of Andrew Carnegie to build a $50,000 library here might be accepted.

The vote was a large one for a special election, but was not as large as the supporters of the library had wished for. The reason given that more people did not vote is that almost every person was in favor of the issue and felt satisfied that it would carry, and therefore did not take time to go to the polls. Had there been opposition to the bonds there would have been a much larger vote.

The Vote by Wards.

The vote by wards is as follows:

First ward—For 192; against 14; total vote 206.

Second ward—For 128; against 10; total vote 138.

Third ward—For 179; against 22; total vote 203.

Fourth ward—For 120; against 15; total vote 136.

The Next Step

In the matter will be taken by council at their meeting to be held tomorrow night. Clerk Hanley will furnish them with an abstract of the votes and then council will pass an ordinance for the sale of bonds and it will be at least 30 days before they can be advertised and sold. It is probable the bonds will bear 4 per cent interest, and the term of years they will run will be fixed by council. It will also be the duty of council to appoint a library committee, who will have sole charge of the library.

It will be the committee who will notify Mr. Carnegie that the city is ready to accept his proposition, and will meet the representative he will send here. They will make all arrangements for the building and attend to all the necessary details. Owing to the importance of this committee it is not thought that the members will be selected at the meeting of council tomorrow evening, and is probable Mr. Carnegie will not be notified of the action of the people until the bonds are sold.

We want you to see our fancy suits in stripes and checks. We also want you to see our suits from $3.50 and upwards.

TWO FIRES IN A NIGHT

The Young Baby Carriage Works Gutted.

THE LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Mrs. Maggie Burlingame Had Her Home Entirely Destroyed and Only Had $800 Insurance—The Fire Department Did Good Work.

A disastrous fire occurred at an early hour this morning at the J. W. Young baby carriage factory on Broadway.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Doc Kinney was going to his home at the National House, when he smelled smoke. He stopped a short time at the corner of Cook street and Broadway in an effort to locate the fire, but was unsuccessful. He continued on down the street and saw flames coming out of the second story of the Young building. He at once sent in the alarm from the National House and then had the porter awaken all the people in the house and get them out on the street.

The city department answered the alarm at once and the East End department was on the scene in about 10 minutes. The fire when the department arrived had gone through the ceiling and had reached the first floor at a point directly under the room in which the excelsior and tow were stored.

The first line of hose was run into the lower floor and the fire extinguished there while two lines were put on the blaze upstairs. The smoke was so dense that it made the firemen sick, but they pluckily staid with their work and in about two hours had the fire out.

In the second story of the building was stored about 400 baby carriages, 200 pieces of glass, umbrellas, upholstering material, paper sacks, combs and towels, trays and varnish, and it is all about a total loss. The machinery down stairs is not damaged to any great extent. The insurance is $7,500, and it is thought it will fully cover the loss.

The building is owned by William Baggott, and is insured for $1,000. The walls are not damaged, but it will need a new roof, floor and several new partitions.

It is thought the fire originated from spontaneous combustion.

ANOTHER FIRE.

Mrs. Maggie Burlingame Had Her House Totally Destroyed.

About 6:30 o'clock fire was discovered at the home of Mrs. Maggie Burlingame, Calcutta road, and a telephone message was sent to the department. They responded at once and found the house one sheet of flame. It was right alongside of a stable and another house and the department succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading although the home of Mrs. Burlingame is a total loss. She had $500 insurance on the building and $300 on the house.

The high service water pressure was used at the fire, and with the plug not fully turned on it took five men to hold the hose, and the shingles on the roof of the house were ploughed off as though they had only been glued instead of nailed. One man who took hold of the hose was thrown about ten feet in the air before he dropped. He was not hurt.

Four Prisoners Cut Through Nine Iron Bars

IN THE CELLS AT COUNTY JAIL

Only to Fall Into the Hands of Sheriff Gill and Deputy Supplee Who Were Watching—Two of the Men From This City and One From Wellsville.

LISBON, Sept. 25.—[Special]—A jail delivery was due Saturday night which was only frustrated by the vigilance of Sheriff Gill and his deputies. Four of the nine prisoners are known to be implicated. These four for the last 10 days have been secretly engaged in filing the iron bars of two of the cell doors. Their plan was to file the lower bars and get into the hallway, the doors of which are not so strong.

The end of four bars were sawed off in the first door to the east and five in the fourth door. The filing was done by a corset steel, nicked by some means. When the filing was completed the men gave three cheers and waited for night, when they tied a blanket to the bars and all four pulled to bend the irons. When any noise was made they shuffled their feet, played a mouth organ and sang "We Won't Go Home Till Morning."

Sheriff Gill and Deputy Supplee were waiting in the hall, having been warned by a little girl a few days ago, and when the moment came surprised the men.

The four prisoners are: Forest M. Gray, of Wellsville, charged with obtaining a marriage license for himself and a married woman by perjury; Newton Croxall, of East Liverpool, sent up for highway robbery in the case of the Shaffer girls; Charles Anderson, of East Liverpool, charged with stealing $20 from a peddler, and Samuel Reed, of Salineville, charged with cutting with intent to kill.

The men were terribly disappointed when discovered by the sheriff. A curious feature about the worst prisoners who are confined in the county jail while trying to escape is that they pretend to be very religious and spend their spare time reading the Bible and singing hymns.

Some idea of the work done by the prisoners may be imagined when it is known that with the one piece of nicked corset steel they cut through nine iron bars, three-fourth inch thick and one and one-half inches wide.

M'LEAN IS UNMASKED.

Forced to Show His Hand Against Bryan.

THE SIGNIFICANT EUSTIS LETTER.

"After the Election" Regarded as an Opportune Time to Speak Out—McLean's Stinging Reference to Bryan's "Uncertain Political Assets" and Its Meaning.

The friends of William Jennings Bryan are rapidly learning the real significance of the candidacy of John R. McLean for governor of Ohio.

Moreover, they have taken the measure of Mr. McLean and know what they may expect.

The old time Democrats of the state need not be told of McLean's treachery. They remember Thurman, Pendleton and Durbin Ward. They know McLean killed those great leaders off to make way for his own bossism and since he has the presidential bee in his bonnet, as he has long had the senatorial itch, he may be expected to treat Bryan to the same medicine he gave Thurman, Pendleton, Ward and scores of other Ohio Democrats.

McLean professes to favor Bryan's renomination. The insincerity of this is proved by the following letter written by the late J. B. Eustis, ex-United States senator and minister to France under President Cleveland, only a few days before his death:

Newport, Aug. 11.

My Dear Mr. ——:
I am taking great interest in the political situation. I agree with you that Bryan and the Chicago platform mean beyond question the re-election of McKinley. I am willing to make any sacrifice to accomplish his defeat. How to do it is the question. What we must assail and destroy is the 16 to 1 demagogue, and that we can do better AFTER THE OHIO ELECTION. I HAD A LONG TALK WITH JOHN M'LEAN. HE SEEMS TO BE HOPEFUL. I will speak out at the opportune moment and hope to have some influence with my southern friends. Yours truly,

J. B. EUSTIS.

Senator Eustis was one of the leading gold Democrats of the south and was greatly interested in the Gorman-Croker scheme to down Bryan. McLean was "hopeful" of the success of that scheme.

If this were not convincing the course of McLean at the Chicago meeting of the Democratic ways and means committee, of which he is chairman, would be conclusive.

George Frederick Williams of Massachusetts, the close friend of Bryan and Bryan's choice for the vice presidency, announced to the committee in Chicago that the Massachusetts state convention would be held in Boston on Thursday, Sept. 21, and that the convention would select delegates to the next Democratic national convention. The Bryanites were prepared for the announcement, but McLean was surprised. He jumped to his feet and passionately protested. The Bryanites had planned this convention. The Massachusetts convention will send a solid Bryan delegation. McLean showed his hand under the impulse of passion. His words are reported in his own newspaper, the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"It savors too much of snap judgment," said Mr. McLean. "It looks on its face like an attempt to foreclose on AN UNCERTAIN POLITICAL ASSET that may vanish before the time for holding the regular party primaries next year. Why name the delegates nine months in advance of the time they should be selected? Why not do it 19 months ahead or three or four years?"

The quarrel between McLean and Williams was a skirmish in the war between Bryan and the Gorman syndicate. McLean's sarcastic reference to Bryan's "uncertain political assets" went deep beneath the skin of the Bryanites. If there ever was a possibility of perfect harmony between McLean and the loyal Bryanites of Ohio it was destroyed.

McLean started out to play a double political game in Ohio this year. He did not want the Zanesville convention to adopt a strong free silver, Bryan plank, but he was so busy corralling delegates that the committee on resolutions got away from him and put him on a plank that "emphasizes" the Chicago declaration and "demands" Bryan's renomination.

This was the first step awry in Mr. McLean's scheme, which aimed to play both the silver and the gold Democrats till "after the election." He tried to repudiate that plank in an interview in which he said state issues would cut a big figure in the campaign, but that failed. Now he has been unmasked by the Bryan leaders in Chicago and his despicable scheme to pretend friendship to Bryan while planning to stab him to death is patent to every political observer.

It remains to be seen what course the Bryan men will take to kill off the faithless multi-millionaire who seeks to destroy their favorite idol.

FUTURE OF DAWSON.

Mining Commissioner's Prediction About the Klondike City.

Major A. H. Halder, Reuter's special mining commissioner to the Klondike, returned to Vancouver the other day. He says that another year or two will make Dawson City to the Klondike what Johannesburg is to South Africa—a great stock investment center. Arrangements are now being made for the formation of a large exchange, and Major Halder says that in a few months a seat on the Dawson City Exchange will be worth as much as seats were sold for in the palmiest days of the South African excitement.

"Dawson City is the city for quick returns and large profits," says Halder. "I went in there a pessimist; but, having knelt at the sluice boxes, I am now a firm believer in these goldfields. The operations are now being undertaken by capitalists, often South African and British, and the saving of gold along the creeks is fast losing its element of money picked up, and mining is becoming an established business. A one ounce reef in the Transvaal and a similar property in the Klondike were compared, and, though that is rich property for South Africa, the northern diggings are found to have the wonderful advantage of being 250 per cent the richer. In South Africa the area is small, while up north the number of hundreds of square miles of gold bearing country is yet unknown."

A Blind Man's Calculation.

When Gauss became blind, his only amusement consisted in making calculations of a curious and somewhat peculiar nature. These sometimes lasted for days. When more than 80 years old, Gauss computed the amount to which $1 would grow if compounded annually at 4 per cent interest from the time of Adam to the present, assuming this to be 6,000 years. This, if in gold, would make a cubic mass so large that it would take a ray of light traveling almost 2,000 miles a second more than 1,000,000,000 years to journey alongside of it. This mental computation is so startling as to be almost beyond belief, yet the conclusions of this eminent mathematician are correct.—St. Lou's Globe-Democrat.

M'LEAN IS UNMASKED.

Forced to Show His Hand Against Bryan.

THE SIGNIFICANT EUSTIS LETTER.

"After the Election" Regarded as an Opportune Time to Speak Out—McLean's Stinging Reference to Bryan's "Uncertain Political Assets" and Its Meaning.

The friends of William Jennings Bryan are rapidly learning the real significance of the candidacy of John R. McLean for governor of Ohio.

Moreover, they have taken the measure of Mr. McLean and know what they may expect.

The old time Democrats of the state need not be told of McLean's treachery. They remember Thurman, Pendleton and Durbin Ward. They know McLean killed those great leaders off to make way for his own bossism and since he has the presidential bee in his bonnet, as he has long had the senatorial itch, he may be expected to treat Bryan to the same medicine he gave Thurman, Pendleton, Ward and scores of other Ohio Democrats.

McLean professes to favor Bryan's renomination. The insincerity of this is proved by the following letter written by the late J. B. Eustis, ex-United States senator and minister to France under President Cleveland, only a few days before his death:

Newport, Aug. 11.

My Dear Mr. —: I am taking great interest in the political situation. I agree with you that Bryan and the Chicago platform mean beyond question the re-election of McKinley. I am willing to make any sacrifice to accomplish his defeat. How to do it is the question. What we must assail and destroy is the 16 to 1 demagogue, and that we can do better AFTER THE OHIO ELECTION. I HAD A LONG TALK WITH JOHN M'LEAN. HE SEEMS TO BE HOPEFUL. I will speak out at the opportune moment and hope to have some influence with my southern friends. Yours truly,

J. B. EUSTIS.

Senator Eustis was one of the leading gold Democrats of the south and was greatly interested in the Gorman-Croker scheme to down Bryan. McLean was "hopeful" of the success of that scheme.

If this were not convincing the course of McLean at the Chicago meeting of the Democratic ways and means committee, of which he is chairman, would be conclusive.

George Frederick Williams of Massachusetts, the close friend of Bryan and Bryan's choice for the vice presidency, announced to the committee in Chicago that the Massachusetts state convention would be held in Boston on Thursday, Sept. 21, and that the convention would select delegates to the next Democratic national convention. The Bryanites were prepared for the announcement, but McLean was surprised. He jumped to his feet and passionately protested. The Bryanites had planned this convention. The Massachusetts convention will send a solid Bryan delegation. McLean showed his hand under the impulse of passion. His words are reported in his own newspaper, the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"It savors too much of snap judgment," said Mr. McLean. "It looks on its face like an attempt to foreclose on AN UNCERTAIN POLITICAL ASSET that may vanish before the time for holding the regular party primaries next year. Why name the delegates nine months in advance of the time they should be selected? Why not do it 19 months ahead or three or four years?"

The quarrel between McLean and Williams was a skirmish in the war between Bryan and the Gorman syndicate. McLean's sarcastic reference to Bryan's "uncertain political assets" went deep beneath the skin of the Bryanites. If there ever was a possibility of perfect harmony between McLean and the loyal Bryanites of Ohio it was destroyed.

McLean started out to play a double political game in Ohio this year. He did not want the Zanesville convention to adopt a strong free silver, Bryan plank, but he was so busy corralling delegates that the committee on resolutions got away from him and put him on a plank that "emphasizes" the Chicago declaration and "demands" Bryan's renomination.

This was the first step awry in Mr. McLean's scheme, which aimed to play both the silver and the gold Democrats till "after the election." He tried to repudiate that plank in an interview in which he said state issues would cut a big figure in the campaign, but that failed. Now he has been unmasked by the Bryan leaders in Chicago and his despicable scheme to pretend friendship to Bryan while planning to stab him to death is patent to every political observer.

It remains to be seen what course the Bryan men will take to kill off the faithless multi-millionaire who seeks to destroy their favorite idol.

M'LEAN IS UNMASKED.

Forced to Show His Hand Against Bryan.

THE SIGNIFICANT EUSTIS LETTER.

"After the Election" Regarded as an Opportunity Time to Speak Out—McLean's Stinging Reference to Bryan's "Uncertain Political Assets" and Its Meaning.

The friends of William Jennings Bryan are rapidly learning the real significance of the candidacy of John R. McLean for governor of Ohio.

Moreover, they have taken the measure of Mr. McLean and know what they may expect.

The old time Democrats of the state need not be told of McLean's treachery. They remember Thurman, Pendleton and Durbin Ward. They know McLean killed those great leaders off to make way for his own bossism and since he has the presidential bee in his bonnet, as he has long had the senatorial itch, he may be expected to treat Bryan to the same medicine he gave Thurman, Pendleton, Ward and scores of other Ohio Democrats.

McLean professes to favor Bryan's renomination. The insincerity of this is proved by the following letter written by the late J. B. Eustis, ex-United States senator and minister to France under President Cleveland, only a few days before his death:

Newport, Aug. 11.

My Dear Mr. ———:
I am taking great interest in the political situation. I agree with you that Bryan and the Chicago platform mean beyond question the re-election of McKinley. I am willing to make any sacrifice to accomplish his defeat. How to do it is the question. What we must assail and destroy is the 16 to 1 demagogue, and that we can do better AFTER THE OHIO ELECTION. I HAD A LONG TALK WITH JOHN M'LEAN. HE SEEKS TO BE HOPEFUL. I will speak out at the opportune moment and hope to have some influence with my southern friends. Yours truly,

J. B. EUSTIS.

Senator Eustis was one of the leading gold Democrats of the south and was greatly interested in the Gorman-Croker scheme to down Bryan. McLean was "hopeful" of the success of that scheme.

If this were not convincing the course of McLean at the Chicago meeting of the Democratic ways and means committee, of which he is chairman, would be conclusive.

George Frederick Williams of Massachusetts, the close friend of Bryan and Bryan's choice for the vice presidency, announced to the committee in Chicago that the Massachusetts state convention would be held in Boston on Thursday, Sept. 21, and that the convention would select delegates to the next Democratic national convention. The Bryanites were prepared for the announcement, but McLean was surprised. He jumped to his feet and passionately protested. The Bryanites had planned this convention. The Massachusetts convention will send a solid Bryan delegation. McLean showed his hand under the impulse of passion. His words are reported in his own newspaper, the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"It savors too much of snap judgment," said Mr. McLean. "It looks on its face like an attempt to foreclose on AN UNCERTAIN POLITICAL ASSET that may vanish before the time for holding the regular party primaries next year. Why name the delegates nine months in advance of the time they should be selected? Why not do it 19 months ahead or three or four years?"

The quarrel between McLean and Williams was a skirmish in the war between Bryan and the Gorman syndicate. McLean's sarcastic reference to Bryan's "uncertain political assets" went deep beneath the skin of the Bryanites. If there ever was a possibility of perfect harmony between McLean and the loyal Bryanites of Ohio it was destroyed.

McLean started out to play a double political game in Ohio this year. He did not want the Zanesville convention to adopt a strong free silver, Bryan plank, but he was so busy corralling delegates that the committee on resolutions got away from him and put him on a plank that "emphasizes" Bryan's renomination.

This was the first step awry in Mr. McLean's scheme, which aimed to play

He tried to repudiate that plank in an interview in which he said state issues would cut a big figure in the campaign, but that failed. Now he has been unmasked by the Bryan leaders in Chicago and his despicable scheme to pretend friendship to Bryan while planning to stab him to death is patent to every political observer.

It remains to be seen what course the Bryan men will take to kill off the faithless multi-millionaire who seeks to destroy their favorite idol.

FUTURE OF DAWSON.

Mining Commissioner's Prediction About the Klondike City.

Major A. H. Halder, Reuter's special mining commissioner to the Klondike, returned to Vancouver the other day. He says that another year or two will make Dawson City to the Klondike what Johannesburg is to South Africa—a great stock investment center. Arrangements are now being made for the formation of a large exchange, and Major Halder says that in a few months a seat on the Dawson City Exchange will be worth as much as seats were sold for in the palmiest days of the South African excitement.

"Dawson City is the city for quick returns and large profits," says Halder. "I went in there a pessimist; but, having knelt at the sluice boxes, I am now a firm believer in these goldfields. The operations are now being undertaken by capitalists, often South African and British, and the saving of gold along the creeks is fast losing its element of money picked up, and mining is becoming an established business. A one ounce reef in the Transvaal and a similar property in the Klondike were compared, and, though that is rich property for South Africa, the northern diggings are found to have the wonderful advantage of being 250 per cent the richer. In South Africa the area is small, while up north the number of hundreds of square miles of gold bearing country is yet unknown."

A Blind Man's Calculation.

When Gauss became blind, his only amusement consisted in making calculations of a curious and somewhat peculiar nature. These sometimes lasted for days. When more than 80 years old, Gauss computed the amount to which $1 would grow if compounded annually at 4 per cent interest from the time of Adam to the present, assuming this to be 6,000 years. This, if in gold, would make a cubic mass so large that it would take a ray of light traveling almost 2,000 miles a second more than 1,000,000,000 years to journey alongside of it. This mental computation is so startling as to be almost beyond belief, yet the conclusions of this eminent mathematician are correct.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"Poor Excuse," Etc.

"That Slims is the most resourceful fellow you ever saw. His girl has a pretty cousin stopping with her, and he told his particular that he had hired an orchestra to serenade them Thursday night. As he had done nothing of the kind and forgot all about it, and as she had made arrangements to treat the serenaders, Slims caught it hot and heavy when he next called. How do you suppose the rascal squared himself?"

"Haven't the slightest idea."

"Told the girl that the orchestra struck on him because she sang in church and didn't belong to the union." —Detroit Free Press.

BEAVER COUNTY FAIR EXCURSIONS.

Sept. 27, 28 and 29, low rate, non-transferable excursion tickets will be sold to Beaver, Pa., via Pennsylvania lines, for the County Fair, where visitors may see many new, novel and attractive exhibits. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Saturday, Sept. 30.

General A. J. Warner, one of the most ardent admirers and enthusiastic supporters of William Jennings Bryan, said in addressing the Washington county Democratic convention at Marietta: "If John R. McLean is nominated he will lose the votes of 100,000 old line Democrats in Ohio."

General Warner speaks for a large element of his party which will not openly repudiate McLean, but will quietly vote for that clean, honorable, able statesman, Judge George K. Nash as the best means of rebuking McLeanism with its absenteeness, bossism and other disreputable methods.

DEFENDING THE BOERS.

A Baltimore Tourist Talks on the Transvaal Controversy.

THE WAR SENTIMENT IN LONDON.

Great Britain's Policy In Dealing With the Little Republic Declared to Be Unjust—The Heroic Spirit of the Sturdy Burghers.

The Baltimore Sun publishes an interview with Mr. O. F. Hershey, a prominent attorney of that city, who has just returned from an extended trip abroad. Discussing the Transvaal controversy, Mr. Hershey says:

"When I left London everybody expected war. The expansionists want it, and the peace party realize that Kruger is standing up for right and will not yield except to bullets. There is the same division of sentiment in England on this question that there is with us on the question of expansion. The independent press and the so called 'intellectuals'—writers, professors, scholars—are bitterly opposed to England's policy of brute force in South Africa. These are taunted as 'Little Englanders' by the commercial element, and everywhere, in the clubs and shops, one hears the brutal doctrine that might is right. England is strongest; therefore England is sovereign. She desires the Transvaal; therefore it is her duty to seize it. It is a simple doctrine, and all the stock brokers, mine promoters, patronage jobbers and Rhodesians rise up and call 'old England' blessed for espousing it."

"The Boers were the first in South Africa. Through no fault nor wish of theirs England obtained dominion over them at the Cape, and after various vicissitudes they finally, 60 years ago, penetrated into a wilderness over which England had no claim. There, after the most thrilling record of struggle and suffering known to history, they conquered the savage and the jungle and founded their little state. England had no more to do with it than the United States."

"They are now a little nation of simple folk, loving the land they won with their blood and living in peace and plenty far from the rush of cities and the madding crowd. In their veins is the same Teutonic blood that made England and the north of Europe what it is. They are well governed and ask only to be left in peace. Among them and about them are many South African English. They are bitterly opposed to England's present policy."

"But for the discovery of great mineral wealth in the Transvaal the present situation would never have arisen. The hunt for gold has brought into Johannesburg more foreigners than there are Boers in the whole state. It has brought with it all the evils and all the characteristics peculiar to large mining towns. The foreign money is everything. It buys legislators, corrupts police, opens gambling and drink places, produces discontent. It did it in our mining cities; it does it in the Transvaal. For this state of things Englishmen hold the Boers responsible and demand that they abdicate their rulership."

"The uitlanders have all the wealth made in the Transvaal; the Boers have the taxing power. The foreigners came unsolicited; they can go when they please, but they stay and cry for blood. They demand the franchise and various rights and concessions which, if granted, will enable them to wipe the Boer state from the face of the earth. According to a famous Maryland statesman, 'two outvote one,' and no one knows this better than Kruger and his followers."

"By the way, according to some newspapers, one would infer that the Boers are all a set of ignorant farmers. On the contrary, the new generation of Boers has more than its percentage of highly educated lawyers, doctors, preachers, scientists, scholars. The simple and struggling life of the fathers is telling in the splendid vitality and superiority of the sons."

"A South African whom I met at Edinburgh assured me that the level of intelligence in the Transvaal was considerably higher than it is in Yorkshire. The Boers, said he, will fight to the last ditch. They are inspired with the same spirit that sustained the Greeks at Thermopylae or the Americans at Bunker Hill. England can slaughter them, but she can never conquer them. The hour of external success in South Africa will be the hour of ultimate failure. It will be the same sort of victory Cromwell won in Ireland or Berkeley in Virginia."

"No one denies that the situation is bad; that the Boers have made many mistakes; that foreigners suffer wrongs they would not suffer at home; that taxation is notoriously unjust; that the dynamite monopoly is a moral and economic monstrosity; that there is gross corruption; that there is some disorder. But if this justifies armed intervention, then some other nations had better beware of John Bull's virtuous sword. The truth is the Boers have done remarkably well under the situation."

WINDT'S NEW ROUTE.

The Proposed Trip From Paris to New York by Land.

The London Standard says: Reuter's agency is informed that Mr. Harry de Windt has completed arrangements for an expedition from Paris to New York by land. It will be remembered that the explorer attempted this journey in the reverse direction some time ago, but all his plans were frustrated owing to the ice condition in Bering straits and in the treatment which he and his servant, both of whom barely escaped with their lives and only after much suffering, received at Oumwaidjik at the hands of the Tchuktechi chief, Kogari. It is Mr. De Windt's intention to leave Paris next year, accompanied by his wife and his servant, Harding. The latter will travel right through, but Mrs. De Windt will, after accompanying her husband as far as Irkutsk, in eastern Siberia, return to Europe and subsequently meet Mr. De Windt at Winnipeg on the conclusion of his voyage in 1901. After leaving Paris Mr. De Windt will travel to Moscow, thence by train via Slataousk, Omsk and Krasnoyarsk to Irkutsk, which place will be reached in September. There Mr. De Windt will remain until the beginning of November, when he will proceed by horse sleigh north to Yakutsk. There a stay of three weeks will be made to get together the dog sleighs, etc., and on Jan. 10 a start will be made for East Cape, Siberia, on Bering straits, the most northeastern point of Asia. The route thither will be via Sredni-Kolynsk and Nijni-Kolynsk to the mission settlements. From Kolynsk the journey will be due east along the shores of the Arctic ocean and by way of Tchaon bay, Cape North and Wankarem to East Cape, which, it is hoped, will be reached about the end of March, 1901.

Arrangements have been made for a San Francisco whaling steamer to meet Mr. De Windt at East Cape when navigation opens at the end of June, until which time he will live with the Tchuktechi at East Cape. If the ice conditions allow, the whaler will convey the explorer to Herschell island, in the Arctic ocean, near the mouth of the Mackenzie river. Entering the Mackenzie, 70 miles from Herschell island, late in July, the river will be ascended as far as Port Good Hope by open boat. At the latter place it is hoped to get a river steamer which plies twice a year between there and the lakes and to proceed via Fort Simpson, Great Slave lake and Lake Athabasca to Edmonton, Winnipeg and New York, reaching there in October, 1901.

In view of his previous experience in that region, Mr. De Windt is purposefully avoiding Oumwaidjik and the chief, Kaori, East Cape, where he will remain for some time, is fully 100 miles north of Oumwaidjik, and the natives of both places are hostile to one another. It is intended to keep a sharp lookout along the Siberian coast for any traces of Andree.

Tore His Bonds In Two.

Wealthy Samuel De Voe, who lives in Spotswood, has taken a new method to guard against loss of wealth, says the New Brunswick (N. J.) correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean. Alarmed by the recent bank robberies at Perth Amboy, he has taken all his cash from a local bank and removed it to his home. Recently he called at the bank and tore in half all of his bonds. One half of each he left in the bank, and the other half he took home. Thus he says, he is secured against loss by robbery.

HOON FAKE EXPLODED.

A Democratic Lie Nailed In a Few Hours.

HE WAS PUNISHED FOR FORGERY.

The Ohio Boy Who Wrote the False Letter Home Over Which the McLean Newspapers Have Made Such a Wild and Foolish Abo—The Facts Developed In the Case.

The first "big sensation" of the Democratic campaign has been exploded within 48 hours after its publication, and the imaginative correspondents of the McLean Enquirer and other papers are wondering where they are at. Sunday, Sept. 17, the McLean press printed at great length a story about Private Lawrence Hoon of Company K, Fourth United States infantry, whose home is in Belle Center, O.

Hoon had written home that he had been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the military prison at Manilla, the forfeiture of his pay and to be dishonorably discharged because he had addressed a letter to General Otis asking promotion instead of going through the usual channels.

This the Democratic organs howled was a vicious crime against Hoon, whose only defense, they declared, was not observing the army red tape.

If the story of Hoon had been true it would have been a punishment of unjustifiable severity and would have deserved condemnation. But when General Otis' side of the case was heard, and it came by cable within 48 hours after the McLean fake was published, it showed that Hoon had not been sentenced for sending a letter to Otis, but for forging the names of a sergeant, two corporals and two privates to a false recommendation of Hoon's bravery and a false recommendation for his promotion.

Forgery is always a grave crime and especially so in war. Had he been tried by any court he would have been as severely punished as he was by the commandant.

As a matter of fact his punishment, in view of the crime, was mild. The army regulations permit sentences up to 25 years for such a crime, and Hoon only got one year, which everybody will admit was no more than he deserved.

Thus is exploded another vicious and foolish yarn which was put forward by the McLean organs as a desperate attack on the McKinley administration. It was a silly fake at best, and the use of it by the McLean organs shows that they are very hard pressed for material with which to attempt to besmirch President McKinley's conduct of the war and the administration of the affairs of the nation by the Republican party.

AGUINALDO'S LEAGUE WITH SPAIN.

Sold Provisions to the Spanish Garrison He Professed to Besiege.

No one of our "misguided countrymen" who think Aguinaldo is a Lafayette and Washington in one, and a marvelously nice copper-colored creature, has undertaken to explain the fact that the American scouts who took the liberty during the siege of Manilla to look over the country in the neighborhood and along the roads, without asking the great and good dictator where they should go, captured six "patriots" equipped with passes bearing the two honored names of the Spanish captain general of the Philippines and the gifted dictator, Aguinaldo.

How did this happy concordance occur? What was it for? A part of it was a way Aguinaldo had of making money by furnishing the Spanish garrison he professed to besiege with fresh beef. How did it happen that there was co-operation between the Spanish captain general and the dictator—the dictator who was the beggar on horseback—what is the explanation? Well, the simple truth is, Aguinaldo was a traitor to the Filipinos and to the Americans also. There is no other explanation of the case. The fellows with the double passes were taken and held in custody by an Ohio man.

This the Democratic organs howled was a vicious crime against Hoon, whose only defense, they declared, was not observing the army red tape.

If the story of Hoon had been true it would have been a punishment of unjustifiable severity and would have deserved condemnation. But when General Otis' side of the case was heard, and it came by cable within 48 hours after the McLean fake was published, it showed that Hoon had not been sentenced for sending a letter to Otis, but for forging the names of a sergeant, two corporals and two privates to a false recommendation of Hoon's bravery and a false recommendation for his promotion.

Forgery is always a grave crime and especially so in war. Had he been tried by any court he would have been as severely punished as he was by the court-martial.

As a matter of fact his punishment, in view of the crime, was mild. The army regulations permit sentences up to 25 years for such a crime, and Hoon only got one year, which everybody will admit was no more than he deserved.

Thus is exploded another vicious and foolish yarn which was put forward by the McLean organs as a desperate attack on the McKinley administration. It was a silly fake at best, and the use of it by the McLean organs shows that they are very hard pressed for material with which to attempt to besmirch President McKinley's conduct of the war and the administration of the affairs of the nation by the Republican party.

AGUINALDO'S LEAGUE WITH SPAIN.

Sold Provisions to the Spanish Garrison He Professed to Besiege.

No one of our "misguided countrymen" who think Aguinaldo is a Lafayette and Washington in one, and a marvelously nice copper-colored creature, has undertaken to explain the fact that the American scouts who took the liberty during the siege of Manila to look over the country in the neighborhood and along the roads, without asking the great and good dictator where they should go, captured six "patriots" equipped with passes bearing the two honored names of the Spanish captain general of the Philippines and the gifted dictator, Aguinaldo.

How did this happy concordance occur? What was it for? A part of it was a way Aguinaldo had of making money by furnishing the Spanish garrison he professed to besiege with fresh beef. How did it happen that there was co-operation between the Spanish captain general and the dictator—the dictator who was the beggar on horseback—what is the explanation? Well, the simple truth is, Aguinaldo was a traitor to the Filipinos and to the Americans also. There is no other explanation of the case. The fellows with the double passes were taken and held in custody by an Ohio man.

DEFENDING THE BOERS.

A Baltimore Tourist Talks on the Transvaal Controversy.

THE WAR SENTIMENT IN LONDON.

Great Britain's Policy In Dealing With the Little Republic Declared to Be Unjust—The Heroic Spirit of the Sturdy Burghers.

The Baltimore Sun publishes an interview with Mr. O. F. Hershey, a prominent attorney of that city, who has just returned from an extended trip abroad. Discussing the Transvaal controversy, Mr. Hershey says:

"When I left London everybody expected war. The expansionists want it, and the peace party realize that Kruger is standing up for right and will not yield except to bullets. There is the same division of sentiment in England on this question that there is with us on the question of expansion. The independent press and the so-called 'intellectuals'—writers, professors, scholars—are bitterly opposed to England's policy of brute force in South Africa. These are taunted as 'Little Englanders' by the commercial element, and everywhere, in the clubs and shops, one hears the brutal doctrine that might is right. England is strongest; therefore England is sovereign. She desires the Transvaal; therefore it is her duty to seize it. It is a simple doctrine, and all the stock brokers, mine promoters, patronage jobbers and Rhodesians rise up and call 'God bless England' blessed for espousing it.

"The Boers were the first in South Africa. Through no fault nor wish of theirs England obtained dominion over them at the Cape, and after various vicissitudes they finally, 60 years ago, penetrated into a wilderness over which England had no claim. There, after the most thrilling record of struggle and suffering known to history, they conquered the savage and the jungle and founded their little state. England had no more to do with it than the United States.

"They are now a little nation of simple folk, loving the land they won with their blood and living in peace and plenty far from the rush of cities and the madding crowd. In their veins is the same Teutonic blood that made England and the north of Europe what it is. They are well governed and ask only to be left in peace. Among them and about them are many South African English. They are bitterly opposed to England's present policy.

"But for the discovery of great mineral wealth in the Transvaal the present situation would never have arisen. The hunt for gold has brought into Johannesburg more foreigners than there are Boers in the whole state. It has brought with it all the evils and all the characteristics peculiar to large mining towns. The foreign money is everything. It buys legislators, corrupts police, opens gambling and drink places, produces discontent. It did it in our mining cities; it does it in the Transvaal. For this state of things Englishmen hold the Boers responsible and demand that they abdicate their rulership.

"The uitlanders have all the wealth made in the Transvaal; the Boers have the taxing power. The foreigners came unsolicited; they can go when they please, but they stay and cry for blood. They demand the franchise and various rights and concessions which, if granted, will enable them to wipe the Boer state from the face of the earth. According to a famous Maryland statesman, 'two outvote one,' and no one knows this better than Kruger and his followers.

"By the way, according to some newspapers, one would infer that the Boers are all a set of ignorant farmers. On the contrary, the new generation of Boers has more than its percentage of highly educated lawyers, doctors, preachers, scientists, scholars. The simple and struggling life of the fathers is telling in the splendid vitality and superiority of the sons.

"A South African whom I met at Edinburgh assured me that the level of intelligence in the Transvaal was considerably higher than it is in Yorkshire. The Boers, said he, will fight to the last ditch. They are inspired with the same spirit that sustained the Greeks at Thermopylae or the Americans at Bunker Hill. England can conquer them, but she can never conquer them. The hour of external success in South Africa will be the hour of ultimate failure. It will be the same sort of victory Cromwell won in Ireland or Berkeley in Virginia.

"No one denies that the situation is bad; that the Boers have made many mistakes; that foreigners suffer wrongs they would not suffer at home; that taxation is notoriously unjust; that the dynamite monopoly is a moral and economic monstrosity; that there is gross corruption; that there is some disorder. But if this justifies armed intervention, then some other nations had better beware of John Bull's viruous sword. The truth is the Boers have done remarkably well under the situation."

WINDT'S NEW ROUTE.

THE PROPOSED TRIP FROM PARIS TO NEW YORK BY LAND.

The London Standard says: Reuter's agency is informed that Mr. Harry de Windt has completed arrangements for an expedition from Paris to New York by land. It will be remembered that the explorer attempted this journey in the reverse direction some time ago, but all his plans were frustrated owing to the ice condition in Bering straits and in the treatment which he and his servant, both of whom barely escaped with their lives and only after much suffering, received at Oumwaidjik at the hands of the Tchuktechi chief, Kari. It is Mr. De Windt's intention to leave Paris next year, accompanied by his wife and his servant, Harding. The latter will travel right through, but Mrs. De Windt will, after accompanying her husband as far as Irkutsk, in eastern Siberia, return to Europe and subsequently meet Mr. De Windt at Winnipeg on the conclusion of his voyage in 1901. After leaving Paris Mr. De Windt will travel to Moscow, thence by train via Slatousk, Omsk and Krasnoyarsk to Irkutsk, which place will be reached in September. There Mr. De Windt will remain until the beginning of November, when he will proceed by horse sleigh north to Yakutsk. There a stay of three weeks will be made to get together the dog sledges, etc., and on Jan. 10 a start will be made for East Cape, Siberia, on Bering straits, the most northeastern point of Asia. The route thither will be via Sredni-Kolynsk and Nijni-Kolynsk to the mission settlements. From Kolynsk the journey will be due east along the shores of the Arctic ocean and by way of Tchaon bay, Cape North and Wankarem to East Cape, which, it is hoped, will be reached about the end of March, 1901.

Arrangements have been made for a San Francisco whaling steamer to meet Mr. De Windt at East Cape when navigation opens at the end of June, until which time he will live with the Tchuktechi at East Cape. If the ice conditions allow, the whaler will convey the explorer to Herschell island, in the Arctic ocean, near the mouth of the Mackenzie river. Entering the Mackenzie, 70 miles from Herschell island, late in July, the river will be ascended as far as Port Good Hope by open boat. At the latter place it is hoped to get a river steamer which plies twice a year between there and the lakes and to proceed via Fort Simpson, Great Slave lake and Lake Athabasca to Edmonton, Winnipeg and New York, reaching there in October, 1901.

In view of his previous experience in that region, Mr. De Windt is purposefully avoiding Oumwaidjik and the chief, Kari, East Cape, where he will remain for some time, is fully 100 miles north of Oumwaidjik, and the natives of both places are hostile to one another. It is intended to keep a sharp lookout along the Siberian coast for any traces of Andree.

TORE HIS BONDS IN TWO.

Wealthy Samuel De Voe, who lives in Spotswood, has taken a new method to guard against loss of wealth, says the New Brunswick (N. J.) correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean. Alarmed by the recent bank robberies at Perth Amboy, he has taken all his cash from a local bank and removed it to his home. Recently he called at the bank and tore in half all of his bonds. One half of each he left in the bank, and the other half he took home. Thus he says, he is secured against loss by robbery.

HOON FAKE EXPLDED.

A DEMOCRATIC LIE NAILED IN A FEW HOURS.

HE WAS PUNISHED FOR FORGERY.

The Ohio boy who wrote the false letter home over which the McLean Newspapers have made such a wild and foolish ado—the facts developed in the case.

The first "big sensation" of the Democratic campaign has been exploded within 48 hours after its publication, and the imaginative correspondents of the McLean Enquirer and other papers are wondering where they are at. Sunday, Sept. 17, the McLean press printed at great length a story about Private Lawrence Hoon of Company K, Fourth United States infantry, whose home is in Belle Center, O.

Hoon had written home that he had been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the military prison at Manilla, the forfeiture of his pay and to be dishonorably discharged because he had addressed a letter to General Otis asking promotion instead of going through the usual channels.

This the Democratic organs howled was a vicious crime against Hoon, whose only defense, they declared, was not observing the army red tape.

If the story of Hoon had been true it would have been a punishment of unjustifiable severity and would have deserved condemnation. But when General Otis' side of the case was heard, and it came by cable within 48 hours after the McLean fake was published, it showed that Hoon had not been sentenced for sending a letter to Otis, but for forging the names of a sergeant, two corporals and two privates to a false recommendation of Hoon's bravery and a false recommendation for his promotion.

Forgery is always a grave crime and especially so in war. Had he been tried by any court he would have been as severely punished as he was by the court martial.

As a matter of fact his punishment, in view of the crime, was mild. The army regulations permit sentences up to 25 years for such a crime, and Hoon only got one year, which everybody will admit was no more than he deserved.

Thus is exploded another vicious and foolish yarn which was put forward by the McLean organs as a desperate attack on the McKinley administration. It was a silly fake at best, and the use of it by the McLean organs shows that they are very hard pressed for material with which to attempt to besmirch President McKinley's conduct of the war and the administration of the affairs of the nation by the Republican party.

RAISED $1,100 SUNDAY

Magnificent Collections at the M. P. Church.

ENTIRE COST OF REPAIRING

Wiped Out at First Services In the Remodeled Auditorium—Rev. W. H. Gladden Opens His Second Pastorate In Most Favorable Conditions.

Yesterday was a field-day at the Methodist Protestant church. For several weeks the congregation had been worshipping in the Sunday school room and yesterday morning when the large and commodious auditorium was thrown open for service it was promptly filled to its utmost capacity.

Rev. W. H. Gladden preached a brief sermon on "The Grace of Giving" choosing for his text, Luke, x 38.

Robert Burford, secretary of the quarterly conference read a statement showing the work of the repair committee, and that $1,100 was still needed to meet the expenses. The pastor appealed to the congregation for this amount, and over $800 of it was promptly raised.

At the evening service the balance was secured entire after a sermon from Psalms 122:1. A very large audience was also present at this service.

The singing throughout the day was of a high order, consisting of solos, duets and anthems. Much enthusiasm was manifested, and Reverend Gladden's pastorate, his second one at this church, is launched under the most favorable auspices.

The newly remodeled and beautified church is now one of the brightest and most attractive places of worship in the city, and the congregation is to be congratulated upon the successful and popular reopening yesterday.

JULIA DENT GRANT A PRINCESS.

One Ceremony Performed at Noon Today and Another Last Night.

NEWPORT, Sept. 25.—In accordance with the rites of the Russian orthodox church, Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Frederick Grant and granddaughter of General Ulysses S. Grant, and Prince Canatuczene, Count Speransky of Russia, were married.

Simple and impressive ceremonies were conducted by Father Hotovitsky of the Russian church, New York, in the parlor at Beauvieu, the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer.

Today at noon another ceremony was performed in the All Saints' Episcopal church.

Wealthy Irwin (Pa.) Man Found.

IRWIN, Pa., Sept. 25.—One of the leading citizens of Irwin, William Jenkins, Sr., has been missing since Thursday morning. The last seen of him was about noon of that day near Paintertown. It was now thought that he wandered to some lone spot or abandoned mine and committed suicide. Later he was found ill in a clump of bushes.

EVENTS IN BRIEFS.

Irwin Fuller Bush of Joliet, Ills., was sent to Kankakee asylum pronounced hopelessly insane. Through injections of lymph from the glands of Mrs. Bush is at home completely restored in mind. The lymph was discovered by Dr. Roberts, a physician of Greene City, Mo.

Jeremiah Sim, a laborer, was overcome by heat while at work in the Forkhouse mill, in lower Allegheny, and had to be removed to his home, at 11 Sterling street, in a patrol wagon.

Venango county, Pa., has taken advantage of the convict labor law passed by the recent legislature, the results being highly satisfactory, and the authorities of Crawford and Mercer counties are soon to put the law in force.

May Jones, the independent candidate for governor in Ohio, challenged George K. Nash and John R. McLean, Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for a joint debate.

SICK OF INDEPENDENCE.

Otis Says Many Filipinos Are Tired of It.
Encouraged by Anti-Imperialists at Home.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—General Otis, in reply to questions, said in part: "Things are going along in a very satisfactory manner. Our own forces are in good condition. We have plenty of commissary supplies here or on the way. We also have all the transportation facilities necessary either in or on the way. When the weather conditions permit we shall be ready to make an active campaign."

"The insurgents are having a hard time holding their forces together. They have no communists and no voluntary support from their own people."

"With the exception of a few robbers and adventurers these people grow sicker and more disgusted with independence every day they have it. Even the leaders of the insurgents are trying to get away. Several officers have come to Manila; others have sent their families here. Paterno (Federico Paterno, the former president of the Filipino cabinet) has his entire family, numbering about 50 persons, here. Others have asked the same privilege."

"Independence was a craze with these people. They did not understand what it meant, but their worship of the idea amounted almost to fanaticism. Now that they really know what independence means it is the best object lesson they ever had, and it will not be necessary to continue it much longer to force them to settle the question."

He said it was almost impossible to overestimate the encouragement, support and assistance that the actions and talk of the anti-expansionists in the United States had given the insurgents. These men, he said, put into the heads of the rebels the idea that congress would do something adverse to the continuance of the war. He (Otis) was kept well informed as to what was going on at the insurgent headquarters. He knew that the insurgent leaders had been exhorting the Filipinos to hold out until September on the plea that a special session of the American congress had been called for the purpose of granting independence to the Filipinos. When that failed the plea was changed and it was said that this action would be taken when congress met in regular session.

This idea of congressional interference with General Otis' actions or the president's plans is so widespread here that it has somewhat affected even the influential Filipinos in Manila.

"When congress meets," says General Otis, "should the president recommend non-action in the Philippine affairs, or should congress refrain from interfering, it would be a hard blow to the rebel leaders. If congress passes a resolution that there shall be no legislation concerning the Philippines until the insurrection is ended by absolute and unconditional surrender, that would be the deathblow to the insurgent cause."

The settlement everywhere depends upon the condition of affairs in Luzon. All the southern islands are awaiting the result of the fight here and will abide by it.

SIX KILLED IN A WRECK.

DENVER and Rio Grande Freight and Excursion Train Collided.

DENVER, Sept. 25.—Six passengers were killed and five injured, one perhaps fatally, in a collision on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at Reno siding, near Florence. The trains in collision were the Philipps-Judson excursion from the east and the eastbound fast freight.

The Killed.

F. Salter, Pullman conductor.
Eva M. Walker, aged 12, of Westford, Mass.

Eugenia B. Judkins, aged 12, Spokane, Wash.
Audie J. Judkins, aged 10, Spokane.
George H. Judkins, aged 6, Spokane.
Wills, boy, aged 6, Los Angeles.

Injured.

Mrs. F. A. Wills, Los Angeles, maybe fatally hurt; Harry Walker, aged 19, Westford, Mass., internal injuries, not serious; Mrs. Grant Biddle, Coal Camp, Mo., internal injuries; Mrs. Ella Biddle, aged 21, Coal Camp, Mo., bruises; C. R. Cook, aged 25, Millers, Ind., bruises. The freight failed to take the track where ordered.

Fifth Ohio to Go to New York.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—Colonel Chas. X. Zimmerman of the Fifth regiment, Ohio national guard, completed arrangements for the transportation of his command to New York to take part in the Dewey parade. Nine companies of the regiment, together with all the officers and hospital corps, go to New York in special trains.

Asserts Jouast Voted For Dreyfus.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The Petit Bleu asserted that Colonel Jouast, president of the Rennes court-martial, voted for the acquittal of Dreyfus.

Train Struck an Electric Car.

TIFFIN, O., Sept. 25.—A Big Four freight dashed into a Tiffin-Fostoria electric car at the crossing of the tracks in this city. Ten passengers on the electric car jumped. Mrs. Mae Greiner of this city and Miss Pierce of Anderson, Ind., sustained serious injuries. The others escaped with minor bruises. No blame is attached to either crew. Because of wet rails the brakes failed to work. The rear of the electric car was demolished.

Rioting Occurred in Spain.

FERROL, Spain, Sept. 25.—A mob of 3,000 stoned the principal Catholic club and the town hall, smashing the windows in both buildings. The municipal guards charged, but were repulsed, 11 being injured, as well as many civilians. A squad of mounted gendarmes dispersed the rioters. The authorities have proclaimed the city under martial law.

Fatal Collision In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A collision occurred between a train of empty coaches and a suburban train on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad at Fourteenth street. Engineer William Decca up died from injuries shortly after being removed from the wreck and Fireman J. R. Frogg was probably fatally injured.

Big Storm on Lake Erie.

TOLEDO, Sept. 25.—Lake Erie witnessed the worst storm of the season, the wind blowing at the rate of 70 miles an hour. Four yachts were capsized near the Maumee river. Damage was reported through Northwestern Ohio.

Robbers Secured $4,000.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sept. 25.—Absalom Kesler, who was murdered Thursday morning for his money, was buried Sunday. It is now known that the robbers secured $4,000.

Over 200 Persons Perished.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 25.—The district of Aidin, in Asia Minor, was visited by an earthquake on Sept. 20, and, according to the latest dispatches, over 200 persons perished.

ENTIRE COST OF REPAIRING

Wiped Out at First Services In the Remodeled Auditorium—Rev. W. H. Gladden Opens His Second Pastorate In Most Favorable Conditions.

Yesterday was a field-day at the Methodist Protestant church. For several weeks the congregation had been worshipping in the Sunday school room and yesterday morning when the large and commodious auditorium was thrown open for service it was promptly filled to its utmost capacity.

Rev. W. H. Gladden preached a brief sermon on "The Grace of Giving" choosing for his text, Luke, x 38.

Robert Burford, secretary of the quarterly conference read a statement showing the work of the repair committee, and that $1,100 was still needed to meet the expenses. The pastor appealed to the congregation for this amount, and over $800 of it was promptly raised.

At the evening service the balance was secured entire after a sermon from Psalms 122:1. A very large audience was also present at this service.

The singing throughout the day was of a high order, consisting of solos, duets and anthems. Much enthusiasm was manifested, and Reverend Gladden's pastorate, his second one at this church, is launched under the most favorable auspices.

The newly remodeled and beautified church is now one of the brightest and most attractive places of worship in the city, and the congregation is to be congratulated upon the successful and popular reopening yesterday.

JULIA DENT GRANT A PRINCESS.
One Ceremony Performed at Noon Today and Another Last Night.

NEWPORT, Sept. 25.—In accordance with the rites of the Russian orthodox church, Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Frederick Grant and granddaughter of General Ulysses S. Grant, and Prince Cantacuzene, Count Speransky of Russia, were married.

Simple and impressive ceremonies were conducted by Father Hotovitsky of the Russian church, New York, in the parlor at Beaulien, the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer.

Today at noon another ceremony was performed in the All Saints' Episcopal church.

Wealthy Irwin (Pa.) Man Found.
IRWIN, Pa., Sept. 25.—One of the leading citizens of Irwin, William Jenkins, Sr., has been missing since Thursday morning. The last seen of him was about noon of that day near Paintertown. It was now thought that he wandered to some lone spot or abandoned mine and committed suicide. Later he was found ill in a clump of bushes.

EVENTS IN BRIEFS.

Irwin Fuller Bush of Joliet, Ills., was sent to Kankakee asylum pronounced hopelessly insane. Through injections of lymph from the glands of goats Bush is at home completely restored in mind. The lymph was discovered by Dr. Roberts, a physician of Greene City, Mo.

SICK OF INDEPENDENCE.

Otis Says Many Filipinos Are Tired of It.
Encouraged by Anti-Imperialists at Home.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—General Otis, in reply to questions, said in part: "Things are going along in a very satisfactory manner. Our own forces are in good condition. We have plenty of necessary supplies here or on the way. We also have all the transportation facilities necessary either here or on the way. When the weather conditions permit we shall be ready to make an active campaign."

"The insurgents are having a hard time holding their forces together. They have no commissariat and no voluntary support from their own people."

"With the exception of a few robbers and adventurers these people grow sicker and more disgusted with independence every day they have it. Even the leaders of the insurgents are trying to get away. Several officers have come to Manila; others have sent their families here. Paterno (Petro Paterno, the former president of the Filipino cabinet) has his entire family, numbering about 50 persons, here. Others have asked the same privilege."

"Independence was a craze with these people. They did not understand what it meant, but their worship of the idea amounted almost to fanaticism. Now that they really know what independence means it is the best object lesson they ever had, and it will not be necessary to continue it much longer to forever settle the question."

He said it was almost impossible to overestimate the encouragement, support and assistance that the actions and talk of the anti-expansionists in the United States had given the insurgents. These men, he said, put into the heads of the rebels the idea that congress would do something adverse to the continuance of the war. He (Otis) was kept well informed as to what was going on at the insurgent headquarters. He knew that the insurgent leaders had been exhorting the Filipinos to hold out until September on the plea that a special session of the American congress had been called for the purpose of granting independence to the Filipinos. When that failed the plea was changed and it was said that this action would be taken when congress met in regular session.

This idea of congressional interference with General Otis' actions or the president's plans is so widespread here that it has somewhat affected even the influential Filipinos in Manila.

"When congress meets," says General Otis, "should the president recommend non-action in the Philippine affairs, or should congress refrain from interfering, it would be a hard blow to the rebel leaders. If congress passes a resolution that there shall be no legislation concerning the Philippines until the insurrection is ended by absolute and unconditional surrender, that would be the deathblow to the insurgent cause."

The settlement everywhere depends upon the condition of affairs in Luzon. All the southern islands are awaiting the result of the fight here and will abide by it.

15TH YEAR. NO. 91.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, SEPT. 25, 1899.

TWO CENTS

REBEL GUN RUINED.

Some Details of Bombardment
In Subig Bay.

THE MONTEREY ALMOST STRUCK.

Shot From the Krupp Cannon of the Rebels Passed Near Her Smokestack.
Gallant Work Done by the Landing
Party—One American Wounded.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Acting Secretary Allen of the navy department received a cable from Rear Admiral Watson giving a brief account of the engagement at Subig bay.

It was dated the 24th, at Manila, and said:

"Mandora discovered heavy gun mounted opposite Kalakian point, Subig bay; exchanged shots with Charleston. Sent Charleston, Monterey, Concord and Zafiro with detachment of marines and sailors from Baltimore to capture and destroy. Attacked insurgent position 23d; after bombardment landing party carried entrenchments, dispossessed enemy and destroyed one 16 centimeter Krupp gun. Casualties: William Shepherd, apprentice, second class, Charleston, seriously wounded; Charles Haffke, coal passer, Concord, heat prostration.

"Insurgent fire heavy, but poorly aimed. Enemy's loss unknown. Full report mailed."

The important feature of the engagement is the fact which is disclosed that the insurgents have been able to obtain Krupp guns. It was known at the time of the outbreak of the insurgents against the Americans that the artillery of the insurgents consisted of a few obsolete guns captured from the Spaniards.

Acting Secretary Allen said that it was evident that the navy at Manila did not intend to allow any fort to be erected by the insurgents which can be reached by the ships, and he was convinced that the squadron under Admiral Watson would be able to keep the shores guarded and repeat the lesson of Saturday if the insurgents are found to be operating on the coast.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—Following are some of the details of the bombardment in Subig bay:

The Monterey began the advance upon the town, which was about three miles east of the monitor's anchorage. The Charleston, Concord and Zafiro followed.

The Monterey opened fire with her secondary and main batteries, the Charleston and Concord joining immediately. The insurgent cannon answered, the first shot passing close to the Monterey's smokestack. The gun was fired twice only.

The American bombardment became general. Later the Monterey advanced to a range of 600 yards, using her main battery. Two hundred and fifty men were landed about 800 yards east of the cannon under a severe shore Mauser fire. The men from the Charleston were the first to reach the beach, but the Concord's men were first at the gun. The gun was found to be a 16-centimeter Krupp gun, presumably obtained from the Spaniards.

The Americans had one wounded.

Cadet Brinser, with the Concord's launch armed with a Gatling, did excellent work on the left of the landing party. Captain Myers of the marines captured a muzzle-loading field piece. Lieutenant McDonald was in command of the landing party, and the movement was splendidly executed and controlled.

The numbers of the Filipinos here could not be ascertained and no dead were seen.

The Monterey fired for four hours—21 shots from her 10-inch guns and 17 from her 12-inch guns.

The town, which was riddled with shells, took fire at several points.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The transport Sherman sailed for Manila with the Thirtieth regiment, United States volunteers, and a detachment of 350 recruits for the Eleventh cavalry and the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh volunteer regiments.

REPUBLICS TOGETHER.

Steyn Said if Transvaal Is Whipped, the British Would Soon Control His Country.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Transvaal situation presents no new features. Dispatches from Johannesburg this morning report a complete dislocation of the rand mining industry. The exodus continues, and all the mines are closing.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, a pro-Boer organ, says:

"Both President Steyn and Mr. Fischer (of the Orange Free State executive) inform me that the volksraad is absolutely unanimous that the two republics should stand or fall together. President Steyn said:

"Suppose we remained neutral and the Transvaal were conquered. It is not likely that we would be long permitted to stand outside British control. Let a rich gold field be discovered and what would become of us?"

PRO-BOER MEETING FAILED.

English Sympathizers Abused Speakers and Turned Tide of Demonstration.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The attempt to hold a pro-Boer anti-war demonstration in Trafalgar square, London, resulted in a drastic failure. Thousands assembled, but not to support the speakers. On the contrary the crowd waved union

MARTINUS TH. STEYN.

jacks and sang the national anthem and "Rule Britannia" like mighty invocations.

The speakers who were quite inaudible, were received with groans, decayed apples and eggs and other missiles. There were cheers for Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, and hisses for President Kruger. Some soldiers who were present were carried shoulder high by the crowd.

There were several ugly rushes for the platforms, which were surrounded by opponents of the demonstration, who yelled fiercely. Finally the mounted police were telephoned for to clear the square. Batons were freely used, several persons were trodden upon by the horses and 30 arrests were made.

The opponents of the meeting finally proposed resolutions in support of the government's policy, which were carried amid wild enthusiasm.

To Send Troops to South Africa.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 25.—The Australian military commanders will meet here on Thursday next to prepare a scheme for the dispatch of a United Australian contingent to South Africa.

FOR DEWEY'S COMING.

New York Reception Arrangements About Finished.

SOME VETERANS TO PARADE.

Men Representing Other Organizations Than the G. A. R. Expected to Appear in the Parade—Ex-Confederates Were Arranging to Be Represented.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—All the general arrangements for the reception of Admiral Dewey are now completed, and only a few minor details are left to be settled. The majority of these cannot be attended to until the admiral has arrived and his wishes have been consulted.

The committee on stands will hold its final meeting today and decide exactly what will be the capacity of the new stands. If the committee stands for all the expenditures it has authorized it will have spent more than $45,000 in excess of the first appropriation made to it of $30,000, and $4,000 more than it has in sight even if the municipal assembly votes to give it the additional $25,000 that is to be asked for at Tuesday's meeting of the aldermen and council.

For the odd $70,000 expended the committee has furnished about 20,000 seats to the ticket committee, 4,000 on the city hall stands, 6,000 for the school children, 10,000 for the municipal assembly and 25,000 for the veterans of the G. A. R., a total of about 40,500 seats for $74,000.

Governor De Forrest of Wyoming has telegraphed asking leave to withdraw his previous refusal to participate in the celebration. The reply was sent that New York would be pleased to welcome him.

Concerning the committee of seven that is to attend Admiral Dewey during his stay in this city, Mr. Foster said he had received a reply in writing from Chauncey Depew and in person from Richard Croker and William Aldo. Mr. Croker said the committee could make any use of him they desired, and that he was ready to do anything in his power to help along the success of the celebration. With the exception of Levi P. Morton and W. C. Whitney, all the members of the committee had accepted. Neither of the last two had been heard from.

Some veterans of the civil war will participate in the land parade in honor of Dewey despite the decision of the officials of the Grand Army or the Republic not to order out different posts.

Among the organizations which have decided to parade are two platoons of the Medal of Honor legion, under General T. S. Peck of Burlington, Vt. Those who will parade will be largely members of the New York commandery, but other commanderies will be represented. All of these men are members of the Grand Army.

The Loyal Legion nominated several of its staff to parade.

There will be two organizations numbering 100 men of the Duryea zouaves of the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth New York volunteers. There will be a contingent from the Eleventh veteran regiment association of the Civil war.

The Hawkins zouaves and two full Grand Army of the Republic posts are arranging to take part in the parade. Already 500 veterans have decided to parade, and by Tuesday it is expected that 1,200, the limit set by General Roe, will have sent in applications.

The Confederate veterans, who had also decided not to parade, are now arranging to have a representation of their organization in the procession.

HEROES TO GREET DEWEY.

Arrangements Made For Tenth Pennsylvania's Trip—To Give Philadelphia a Cannon.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 25.—Arrangements are completed for the Tenth regiment's trip to New York to participate in the land and naval pageants in honor of the triumphal homecoming of Admiral Dewey. Colonel James E. Barnett gave his sanction to the plans by telegrams from Markleton.

The completed schedule provides for the departure of one battalion of the Tenth from Union station next Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. The companies to assemble here will be A of Mionongahela City, Capt. Gustave Schaaf; B of New Brighton, Captain Harry

Watson; H of Washington, Pa.; Captain Alonzo S. Porter, and K of Waynesburg, Captain Thomas S. Crago.

The other companies will assemble at Greensburg, forming a second battalion, and from there the regiment will be on one train.

In the second battalion will be Companies D of Connellsburg, Captain Russell A. Crow; C of Uniontown, Captain Daniel Bierer; E of Mount Pleasant, Captain James Loar, and I of Greensburg, Captain William Finney. Majors H. C. Cutnberton of New Brighton and Everhart Bierer of Uniontown, together with all the staff officers, will accompany the regiment.

From Greensburg the Tenth will go direct to Harrisburg. There the heroes will be equipped with guns and side arms.

The Tenth will be landed in the Quaker City Thursday evening. The members of the regiment will then march to the Third regiment's armory, where they will be banqueted by the members of that organization.

After the banquet the Tenth will be entertained at a smoker, to be given by the Third regiment. On the morning of Sept. 29 the Tenth will march to Washington square, near Independence hall, where the presentation ceremonies of the gift of a cannon will take place.

The cannon is one that Colonel Barnett brought back with the regiment from the Philippines, having formerly been used by the Spaniards. He will formally present it to the mayor of the city, who will receive it and respond to the speech of Colonel Barnett on behalf of the citizens of Philadelphia. Dinner will be served to the visiting veterans at the exposition building, and shortly after noon the special train will leave Philadelphia for New York, arriving there in the evening.

The Tenth will be the guests of the Eighth regiment of New York national guard, and will be quartered at this regiment's armory while in the city.

NOTED CONVICT CAUGHT.

Lynch, Who Had Escaped From the Penitentiary at Columbus, Captured Near That City.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25.—James Lynch, the noted burglar and diamond robber, who escaped from the penitentiary several days ago, was captured at Shadrack's Station, near this city.

Lynch had disguised himself as an old man, walking with a cane, and was recognized only by his voice by one of the city detectives who happened to be in the vicinity looking for him.

Lynch took to his heels, but was brought to a halt by a fusilade of bullets sent after him. He claimed that a guard aided him to escape.

Annual Succoth Pilgrimage.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25.—The annual Succoth pilgrimage to the National Farm school, near here, took place Sunday. The feature of the pilgrimage was the dedication of five new buildings. Among those who took part in the dedicatory exercises were the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf and Mayor Ashbridge of Philadelphia and Adjutant General Stewart and Surgeon General Shoemaker of the national guard of Pennsylvania. Dr. Wise of Cincinnati conducted services in the chapel.

Ohio Regiments Held Reunion.

BARNESVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—The Third and Fifty-second Ohio regiments held reunions here. The Third regiment elected the following officers:

President, W. Steiner; vice president, Philander Powell; secretary and treasurer, T. P. O'Shea. Fifty-second—President, T. D. Neighbor; vice presidents, Frank Leslie, J. C. Harrison, J. N. Hunt, James Kinsley, J. C. Brown, Peter Griffin, S. Rothacker, Lud Mills, H. B. Treat, F. B. Stewart.

Wants to Manufacture Aluminum.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25.—Thomas Braniff, Jr., petitioned the department of encouragement for permission to establish a wholly new industry here, which is the manufacture of aluminum. He states the capital employed will not be less than $1,000,000.

Sergeant Lynch Died In Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—General Brooke, at Havana, notified the war department of the death at Matanzas on the 22nd inst. of Sergeant John Lynch of Company G, Second cavalry, from an unknown cause.

EVIDENCES OF GUILT.

Prominent Swede Arrested For Murder, at Jamestown.

UNFORTUNATE GIRL WAS KILLED.

She Had Been Much In His Company. Handle of the Man's Razor Found at Scene of the Crime—Blood on His Clothing—Victim Identified.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The young woman murdered at Falconer was identified by Rev. P. Martinson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, as Miss Emily Adolphson, a house servant and a member of his congregation.

Physicians conducting the autopsy discovered that the girl would have become a mother within a few months.

The police learned that the murdered girl had been much in the company of a young man named Frank Vennerholm of this city.

They visited Vennerholm's boarding house, found the young man in bed and arrested him. A search of the room brought to view a vest and pair of trousers covered with mud and blood; a pair of shoes and a pair of stockings soaked with water, and in a trunk was found a white shirt with the bosom heavily spattered with blood together with a handkerchief in the same condition.

The ground in the vicinity of the place of the murder was thoroughly searched and the handle of a razor with the blade broken was found. The handle was shown to Vennerholm's brother, who had not been informed of the arrest, and he at once pronounced it the handle of his brother Frank's razor. Vennerholm is prominent among the Swedish young people of the city and an Odd Fellow.

A woman's cries for help attracted the attention of three boys in the village of Falconer. The boys ran in the direction whence the cries came and heard a feeble voice saying "here I am." The voice came from a clump of bushes near the Chautauqua lake outlet which runs through the village. The boys heard some one running through the bushes, while the woman was found to have been dragged to the edge of the water and dropped in.

The body was pulled to the bank. When a physician arrived the woman was dead. Her throat had been cut from ear to ear. The ground in the vicinity gave evidence of a struggle.

MORE VOLUNTEERS ARRIVED.

Some Companies of the First Montana Came on the Valencia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The United States transport Valencia, having on board those companies of the First Montana regiment, United States volunteers, not brought by the Zealandia, arrived here 12 days from Yokohama. A committee of Montanians met the Valencia in a tug.

Apart from the 28 invalids on board, sent out of Manila hospitals, the health of all on board was excellent.

The troops will probably be landed today.

Among the passengers who also made the trip from Manila was Lieutenant Hawkins, Third infantry.

Frank Hawkins Arrived.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Frank D. Hawkins, son of the late Colonel Hawkins of the Tenth Pennsylvania, now second lieutenant of the Third infantry and formerly captain of Company D, Tenth Pennsylvania, reached here on the transport Valencia, which brought six companies of the First Montana volunteers from Manila. Lieutenant Hawkins left at once for his home at Washington, Pa.

THE EAST END. WILL BUILD A BRIDGE

Beaver County Commissioners to Expend $8,000

ON SMITH'S FERRY IMPROVEMENT

Work Will Be Started This Week and Several East End Men Will Be Employed--Scarcity of Boarding Houses
Complaint About Disposal of Garbage.

The commissioners of Beaver county have let the contract for the construction of a bridge to span Beaver creek. The bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000 and will be built of stone and iron. Work will commence this week.

The teamsters who haul between Smith's Ferry and East End, and there is a large number of them, will rejoice at the action of the commissioners. In the past one driving to the ferry was compelled to drive around the hill near the Child's residence, but when the bridge is completed at least a fifth of a mile will be saved. Several men from the East End have been engaged to work on the new structure.

A SHORTAGE.

Additional Boarding Houses Required For the East End.

There is a scarcity of private boarding houses in East End at the present time and all those who do keep boarders are overcrowded. In one instance the meals are furnished for 20 cents, and this week a number of applicants for boarding have been refused. They are now boarding in the city. It is also stated the price of boarding in East End will be advanced soon, owing to the advancement in the price of groceries.

COMPLAINING.

People Insist on Disposing of Their Garbage Illegally.

Some people living along the river bank and some along the railroad have been dumping their garbage over the river bank and throwing it over the high fence on the railroad tracks. Sanitary Officer Burgess is now conducting an investigation, and within a short time, it is thought, the guilty parties will be served with a notice. The odor arising from these places is at times sickening.

NEARLY 200 SCHOLARS.

Rally Day and Special Services at the Second Presbyterian Church.

At the rally day service in the Second Presbyterian church yesterday the report of the secretary showed 194 scholars in the school.

There will be services in the church every evening next week at which the pastor will be assisted by several other ministers. Communion service will be held on the second Sunday of October.

A NEW CASE.

An Addition Made to the Second Presbyterian Sunday School.

A handsome library case has been ordered by the officials of the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church and it is thought it will be placed in position this week. It has a capacity of several hundred volumes of ordinary size.

Miss Maude Elliott has recovered from a severe illness caused by catarrh.

MAJ. JOHN B. MILLS,

A Man With a History, Faces Mayor Bough This Morning.

Officer White yesterday afternoon found Maj. John B. Mills on Second street with a jag. Mills was taken to city hall and this morning got $7.60, which he paid. Mills is a man with a history. At the age of 20 he enlisted in the war of the rebellion and served four years, four months and ten days, coming out with the title of major attached to his name. He then studied law in the office of Judge Nichols, was admitted to the bar and practiced for six years, being very successful, and was recognized as a very bright lawyer. He then took to drink and rapidly lost his practice. After a few years he gathered himself together and went to teaching school and gained some reputation. He then published an arithmetic but couldn't stand prosperity and went down again. At present he is living in a little hut across the river and every time he draws his pension he comes to this city and proceeds to have a time.

THEY WANTED OUT.

A Car Blew a Plug In Washington Street and There Was Some Excitement.

Saturday afternoon as a car packed with people was coming up Washington street a plug blew out and it started down the hill again. There was much consternation among the passengers, and some of them made wild efforts to get off. The motorman stopped his car and soon repaired the damage.

The Week's Shows.

Little Trixie, at the Grand tomorrow night, is a well written and clever comedy-drama in which May Smith Robbins has a good opportunity to show to advantage. She appears in it in six different characters, and displays her versatility in every one. There are some thrilling situations in the piece and lively and musical climaxes. The girls in the company are said to be pretty and versatile and add some good specialties.

"Uncle Seth Haskins," which comes to the Grand Wednesday, contains all the elements calculated to public favor, and certainly has been mounted with every care as to detail. The most striking feature is the explosion and the saw mill scene in the second and third acts.

LIVERPOOL IS ON TOP

The Local Ball Team Now County Champions.

WELLSVILLE BADLY DEFEATED

In the Game Saturday Afternoon--They Were Never In It With the Local Club and For Five Innings Didn't Score a Run. Notes on the Game.

The Liverpool ball team had an easy time with the Wellsville club Saturday, defeating them by a score of 10 to 1, and thus winning three games in a series of five and the championship of the county.

How It Was Done.

The game was one of the best ever played and the local infield worked like clocks. Wellsville was shutout for the first five innings, and in that time made only two hits. They scored in the sixth on a three-base hit by Curtis and a single by Brooks. That was the end of their run getting, as they were shutout in the remaining three innings.

Liverpool scored one in the third on a two-base hit by Carey and a single by J. R. Rark. They were shutout in the fourth, but made three in the fifth on a single by Calhoun, a double by Carey and errors by Patterson and Brooks. They didn't score in the sixth, but made five in the seventh on a double by Godwin, a home run by Carey, a single by C. Davis, a double by C. Rark, a single by McShane and two bases on balls. Patterson went in the box for Wellsville this inning, but it was no use and he was hit as hard as Miller. The local team scored their last run on a two-base hit by J. Rark and errors by Brooks and Emmerling. The score:

Notes.

George Carey was heartily applauded every time he came to bat.

McShane had Patterson's measure and struck him out three times.

Godwin played second and Rark shortstop in splendid style, accepting all chances that came their way.

The Wellsville people are still trying to figure out how it was all done.

A record of the five games played is as follows: East Liverpool 9, Wellsville 8, at Wellsville, Aug. 12; Liverpool 7, Wellsville 8, at Liverpool, Aug. 19; Wellsville 18, Liverpool 0, at Wellsville, Sept. 2; Liverpool 13, Wellsville 4, at Liverpool, Sept. 9; Liverpool 10, Wellsville 1, at Liverpool, Sept. 23.

THOMAS RUSSELL,

An Aged Resident, Died Yesterday at His Home on Sixth Street.

The death of Mr. Thomas Russell, one of East Liverpool's oldest and highly respected citizens, was quite a shock to his family and many friends. He was taken sick Thursday noon, and passed to his better home Sunday morning at 6:40. He was aged 73 years, having been a resident of the city 50 years. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss, viz: William, Mrs. Charles Harker, Mrs. James O'Hanlon, of this city, and Mrs. Albert Lisby, of Toronto, O. Funeral will take place from St. Aloysius church Tuesday morning at 8:30. Interment in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Friends of the family respectfully invited to attend. Remains can be viewed at his late residence from 6 to 9 o'clock Monday evening.

THE WARREN POTTERY

Is Almost Completed and Will Start Up in the Middle of October.

Speaking of the new Brewer pottery at Warren, the Chronicle says a building 30x242 feet is now nearing completion. The kiln, which is 40 feet high and 18 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 10,000 jugs, will be completed this week. The machinery has been ordered and will arrive soon. The plant will make a specialty of the Brewer patent jug, besides other earthenware. The company expects to be operating the factory by the middle of October. During the course of the winter the company will put up another building and kiln, a duplicate of the present structure, thus carrying out the original plan of a two-kiln pottery.

A LOCAL ESTATE.

* SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

Doctor Toot will move office to new residence on Fifth street about the first week in October.

The hearty looking man who thumps his chest and says he's sound as a dollar, does not take into consideration the catarrh which bothers him occasionally.

"Oh! everybody has more or less catarrh."

That's nothing," he says.

But he is mistaken. What begins in catarrh may end in consumption.

It is a foul disease at its best and a fatal disease at its worst when it involves the lung tissues.

For catarrh and for diseases of the throat and lungs in general the standard medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is recommended by physicians who have tested its efficacy and wondered at its cures. It not only destroys the disease, but it purifies the blood and strengthens the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition.

"For twelve years I was a sufferer from catarrh and was treated by one of the best physicians in the state of North Carolina, who said the trouble had reached my lungs," writes Mr. J. M. Patton, of Clotho, Transylvania Co., N. C. "I grew worse every day until I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines. Will say one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cured me and to-day I am well and hearty and I will say further that my former physician, Dr. W. M. Lyday, recommends Dr. Pierce's medicine to me and to others. I am sure your medicines will cure any case of catarrh that exists. I recommend them to all."

MERCER MAY BE RICH

Interested With Others In an Immense Estate

IN NEW YORK AND JERSEY

County Road Cases Not Settled Yet—The State Auditor Has Forwarded the Semi-Annual School Allowance to Hancock County—News of Chester and Vicinity.

Several years ago Johnson Mercer, who lives on the Finley road, about a mile back of Chester, made a trip to New York for the purpose of investigating an immense estate in which all the Mercers in this vicinity are interested. Some light on the subject was obtained, but nothing was done at the time toward extending the investigation. Mr. Mercer has been advised that interest in the investigation has again been revived and that attorneys who are working on the case assert the estate to be valued at not less than $50,000,000.

This estate was once the property of General Mercer, a resident of Virginia who joined Braddock's expedition against the French at Fort Duquesne and shared in the defeat of the English. The property this general owned is located in New York City and some in New Jersey. There are a large number of descendants of General Mercer, numbered among them being Mr. Mercer, of Chester, Webster Hunter and J. A. and W. H. Moon, of East Palestine.

Mr. Mercer is a carpenter by trade and for the past several weeks has been working in East End. While he is taking an interest in the proceedings he will not talk for publication.

TO SUPREME COURT.

Kenilworth-Chester Road Cases to be Carried Up.

In the matter of the establishment of a public road from a point at or near Kenilworth to Chester to take the place of that portion of the road used by the New Cumberland branch, John Burford and Grant McKinnon, who require compensation, having refused to accept the sums offered, the court will prosecute in the supreme court to ascertain what will be a just compensation.—Cumberland Courier.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS.

Hancock County Schools Expenses Are Very Light.

The state auditor has just sent to the Hancock County Treasurer Wilkins $1,024.56 to be added to the school fund. This is the semi-annual allowance, and is several dollars in advance of the amount sent the last school term.

Crop Is Short.

Winter apples may be very scarce this winter. Farmers say the drought has affected the crop very much so that they are falling to the ground very rapidly.

THEY TALKED FIGHT.

One Man Wanted to Whip the Whole Town but the Other Wasn't So Particular.

Saturday night after the show two young men got in a dispute on Sixth street, and one of them wanted to whip the whole town. The other fellow was not so particular, and desired to get at his adversary in some quiet place in a dark alley. Officer Whan appeared and the young men quieted down, much to the disgust of a large crowd who had been attracted by the wind work of the young men.

THE ISSUE CARRIED.

The result of the submission to popular vote of the proposition to issue $20,000 of bonds, for the purchase of the Bradshaw site for the Carnegie library, has shown that East Liverpool people, while not holding mass meetings and enthusing with wordy resolutions and wordier speeches, have just as highly appreciated Mr. Carnegie's generous offer as any of the other cities honored. The details are now completed, the city can purchase the site and notify Mr. Carnegie of its acceptance, and no time will be lost in getting the building erected. Some official recognition of Mr. Carnegie's generosity might fittingly be made by council and other public bodies.

ACRE OF BLAZING OIL

Two Men Burned to Death and Three Seriously Injured

BY THE DISASTER AT RAYL WELL

Thousands Visited the Scene of Wellsville's Disaster Yesterday—The Injured Men May Recover—A 125 Barrel Gusher Was Too Strong for the Drillers.

Two men were burned to death and three seriously injured by a terrible disaster in the Wellsville oil field Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred on the Rayl well, on the Ridinger farm, one-third of a mile north of Wellsville, on the Lisbon road. The ground was originally leased by Vance Todd and J. H. Johnson, of Wellsville, from Mrs. Slaughter, of Allegheny, and by them leased to John Rayl, of Wellsville, Harry Karns, of Pittsburgh, and S. Adams. The well was sunk about 50 feet south of the Lawson 100 barrel well, and came in at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. It proved to be the best in the field, 125 barrels natural.

Saturday morning they started to take out the sand pump to clean it. They got it up to within two feet of the top about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and had unscrewed one side of the cap when they found it was too strong for them and tried to put the cap back. The pressure forced the cap off and sent the oil up in a column 75 feet above the 52 foot derrick. The spray covered about an acre of ground and almost before the men working realized what had happened the gas had reached the boiler 40 feet away and the whole place was a sea of burning oil.

Charles Wilkinson, John H. Williams and Harry Karns had been working at the hole, and John Rayl and Charles Rogers were at the boiler. All were soon in flames. Karns was the first to run. He dashed northeast and jumped into a big water tank. Williams started for Little Yellow creek west, but became confused and ran twice around the Ridinger house and then north-west, rolling over the hill and down into the roadway. Parts of the flesh from his hands were found on top of the hill and his roll down the hill is marked by a streak of burnt grass. He died at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Wilkinson ran southwest. He was the worst burned. He fell as soon as he reached the top of the hill where he was making for Little Yellow creek, 150 feet away. He rolled over into the road and was probably dead before he struck the hill edge.

Rayl ran southwest from the boiler and was caught by J. M. Workman and rolled in the grass. Rogers ran down the road to an old stone spring and was caught and rolled in the roadway until the flames were out.

Williams was from this city, 35 years of age and leaves a wife. He formerly drove an express wagon for George Wells and was employed as a driller at the well. His body was brought to Harry Larkins' home in the West End and was buried at 10 o'clock today at Georgetown. He was a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

Wilkinson was 21 years of age, and was employed as a tool dresser. His home is in Jewett, O. He boarded with Mrs. Alfred McFall, Fourth street, Wellsville, and went there about a month ago from the East End, this city.

Rayl is reported improving today at his home in Wellsville. His body is badly burned. He is one of the owners of the well, 50 years of age and has a wife and three children.

Karns is 22, unmarried, a son of S. Dunc Karns, the old time oil magnate and Populist of Pittsburg. He is burned on breast, head and face, but will recover. He is at the Rayl home.

Rogers is from Hookstown, 22 and single. He is burned about the arms and breast and is at the Central hotel, Wellsville. He will recover.

PUTTING OUT THE FLAMES.

Wellsville Fire Department Had Hard Work With Their Chemicals.

That the disaster wasn't greater was due to the precaution of having a rope to keep off the crowd. When the explosion occurred the people fled in all directions.

The news was quickly carried to Wellsville and the fire department turned out. After hard work they succeeded in extinguishing the fire with chemicals from the Babcocks. The flow was then piped.

A RACE WITH DEATH.

Brave Glycerine Hauler Took Terrible Risks and Succeeded.

When the fire broke out Luntz's nitro glycerine wagon stood 40 feet away. An employe saw the danger, and seizing hold of the wagon dashed down the hill. Few of the crowd knew of the contents and the danger until the fire was over. Then they paled as they thought of the risk they had run and the danger braved by the man who hurried the explosive out of range.

TWO FIRES IN A NIGHT

The Young Baby Carriage Works Gutted.

THE LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Mrs. Maggie Burlingame Had Her Home Entirely Destroyed and Only Had $800 Insurance—The Fire Department Did Good Work.

A disastrous fire occurred at an early hour this morning at the J. W. Young baby carriage factory on Broadway.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Doc Kinney was going to his home at the National House, when he smelled smoke. He stopped a short time at the corner of Cook street and Broadway in an effort to locate the fire, but was unsuccessful. He continued on down the street and saw flames coming out of the second story of the Young building. He at once sent in the alarm from the National House and then had the porter awaken all the people in the house and get them out on the street.

The city department answered the alarm at once and the East End department was on the scene in about 10 minutes. The fire when the department arrived had gone through the ceiling and had reached the first floor at a point directly under the room in which the excelsior and tow were stored.

The first line of hose was run into the lower floor and the fire extinguished there while two lines were put on the blaze upstairs. The smoke was so dense that it made the firemen sick, but they pluckily staid with their work and in about two hours had the fire out.

In the second story of the building was stored about 400 baby carriages, 200 pieces of glass, umbrellas, upholstering material, paper sacks, combs and towels, trays and varnish, and it is all about a total loss. The machinery down stairs is not damaged to any great extent. The insurance is $7,500, and it is thought it will fully cover the loss.

The building is owned by William Baggott, and is insured for $1,000. The walls are not damaged, but it will need a new roof, floor and several new partitions.

It is thought the fire originated from spontaneous combustion.

ANOTHER FIRE.

Mrs. Maggie Burlingame Had Her House Totally Destroyed.

About 6:30 o'clock fire was discovered at the home of Mrs. Maggie Burlingame, Calcutta road, and a telephone message was sent to the department. They responded at once and found the house one sheet of flame. It was right alongside of a stable and another house and the department succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading although the home of Mrs. Burlingame is a total loss. She had $500 insurance on the building and $300 on the house.

The high service water pressure was used at the fire, and with the plug not fully turned on it took five men to hold the hose, and the shingles on the roof of the house were ploughed off as though they had only been glued instead of nailed. One man who took hold of the hose was thrown about ten feet in the air before he dropped. He was not hurt.

WITH A PIECE OF CORSET STEEL

Four Prisoners Cut Through Nine Iron Bars

IN THE CELLS AT COUNTY JAIL

Only to Fall Into the Hands of Sheriff Gill and Deputy Suppée Who Were Watching—Two of the Men From This City and One From Wellsville.

LISBON, Sept. 25.—[Special]—A jail delivery was due Saturday night which was only frustrated by the vigilance of Sheriff Gill and his deputies. Four of the nine prisoners are known to be implicated. These four for the last 10 days have been secretly engaged in filing the iron bars of two of the cell doors. Their plan was to file the lower bars and get into the hallway, the doors of which are not so strong.

The end of four bars were sawed off in the first door to the east and five in the fourth door. The filing was done by a corset steel, nicked by some means. When the filing was completed the men gave three cheers and waited for night, when they tied a blanket to the bars and all four pulled to bend the irons. When any noise was made they shuffled their feet, played a mouth organ and sang "We Won't Go Home Till Morning."

Sheriff Gill and Deputy Suppée were waiting in the hall, having been warned by a little girl a few days ago, and when the moment came surprised the men.

The four prisoners are: Forest M. Gray, of Wellsville, charged with obtaining a marriage license for himself and a married woman by perjury; Newton Croxall, of East Liverpool, sent up for highway robbery in the case of the Shaffer girls; Charles Anderson, of East Liverpool, charged with stealing $20 from a peddler, and Samuel Reed, of Salineville, charged with cutting with intent to kill.

The men were terribly disappointed when discovered by the sheriff. A curious feature about the worst prisoners who are confined in the county jail while trying to escape is that they pretend to be very religious and spend their spare time reading the Bible and singing hymns.

Some idea of the work done by the prisoners may be imagined when it is known that with the one piece of nicked corset steel they cut through nine iron bars, three-fourth inch thick and one and one-half inches wide.

Frank Crook and daughter, Miss Pauline, left this morning for Oberlin where Miss Pauline will enter the college at that place.

While in France Mr. Reinartz heard much of the Dreyfus case, it being discussed by every body, who from newsboys to the highest officials everyone believed the captain guilty. An Annoying Loss.

BOND ISSUE CARRIED

The City Will Get That $50,000 Library.

THE VOTE WAS NOT LARGE

But It Was Decidedly In Favor of Issuing Bonds In the Sum of $20,000 to Purchase a Library Site--What Council Will Do.

Saturday the people of the city by a vote of 619 to 61 decided that bonds in the sum of $20,000 should be issued to purchase a library site so that the offer of Andrew Carnegie to build a $50,000 library here might be accepted.

The vote was a large one for a special election, but was not as large as the supporters of the library had wished for. The reason given that more people did not vote is that almost every person was in favor of the issue and felt satisfied that it would carry, and therefore did not take time to go to the polls. Had there been opposition to the bonds there would have been a much larger vote.

The Vote by Wards.

The vote by wards is as follows:

First ward—For 192; against 14; total vote 206.

Second ward—For 128; against 10; total vote 138.

Third ward—For 179; against 22; total vote 203.

Fourth ward—For 120; against 15; total vote 136.

The Next Step

in the matter will be taken by council at their meeting to be held tomorrow night. Clerk Hanley will furnish them with an abstract of the votes and then council will pass an ordinance for the sale of bonds and it will be at least 30 days before they can be advertised and sold. It is probable the bonds will bear 4 per cent interest, and the term of years they will run will be fixed by council. It will also be the duty of council to appoint a library committee, who will have sole charge of the library.

It will be the committee who will notify Mr. Carnegie that the city is ready to accept his proposition, and will meet the representative he will send here. They will make all arrangements for the building and attend to all the necessary details. Owing to the importance of this committee it is not thought that the members will be selected at the meeting of council tomorrow evening, and is probable Mr. Carnegie will not be notified of the action of the people until the bonds are sold.

We want you to see our fancy suits in stripes and checks. We also want you to see our suits from $3.50 and upwards.

M'LEAN IS UNMASKED.

Forced to Show His Hand Against Bryan.

THE SIGNIFICANT EUSTIS LETTER.

"After the Election" Regarded as an Opportune Time to Speak Out—McLean's Stinging Reference to Bryan's "Uncertain Political Assets" and Its Meaning.

The friends of William Jennings Bryan are rapidly learning the real significance of the candidacy of John R. McLean for governor of Ohio.

Moreover, they have taken the measure of Mr. McLean and know what they may expect.

The old time Democrats of the state need not be told of McLean's treachery. They remember Thurman, Pendleton and Durbin Ward. They know McLean killed those great leaders off to make way for his own bossism and since he has the presidential bee in his bonnet, as he has long had the senatorial itch, he may be expected to treat Bryan to the same medicine he gave Thurman, Pendleton, Ward and scores of other Ohio Democrats.

McLean professes to favor Bryan's renomination. The insincerity of this is proved by the following letter written by the late J. B. Eustis, ex-United States senator and minister to France under President Cleveland, only a few days before his death:

Newport, Aug. 11.

My Dear Mr. ——:
I am taking great interest in the political situation. I agree with you that Bryan and the Chicago platform mean beyond question the re-election of McKinley. I am willing to make any sacrifice to accomplish his defeat. How to do it is the question. What we must assail and destroy is the 16 to 1 demagogue, and that we can do better AFTER THE OHIO ELECTION. I HAD A LONG TALK WITH JOHN M'LEAN. HE SEEMS TO BE HOPEFUL. I will speak out at the opportune moment and hope to have some influence with my southern friends. Yours truly,

J. B. EUSTIS.

Senator Eustis was one of the leading gold Democrats of the south and was greatly interested in the Gorman-Croker scheme to down Bryan. McLean was "hopeful" of the success of that scheme.

If this were not convincing the course of McLean at the Chicago meeting of the Democratic ways and means committee, of which he is chairman, would be conclusive.

George Frederick Williams of Massachusetts, the close friend of Bryan and Bryan's choice for the vice presidency, announced to the committee in Chicago that the Massachusetts state convention would be held in Boston on Thursday, Sept. 21, and that the convention would select delegates to the next Democratic national convention. The Bryanites were prepared for the announcement, but McLean was surprised. He jumped to his feet and passionately protested. The Bryanites had planned this convention. The Massachusetts convention will send a solid Bryan delegation. McLean showed his hand under the impulse of passion. His words are reported in his own newspaper, the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"It savors too much of snap judgment," said Mr. McLean. "It looks on its face like an attempt to foreclose on AN UNCERTAIN POLITICAL ASSET that may vanish before the time for holding the regular party primaries next year. Why name the delegates nine months in advance of the time they should be selected? Why not do it 18 months ahead or three or four years?"

The quarrel between McLean and Williams was a skirmish in the war between Bryan and the Gorman syndicate. McLean's sarcastic reference to Bryan's "uncertain political assets" went deep beneath the skin of the Bryanites. If there ever was a possibility of perfect harmony between McLean and the loyal Bryanites of Ohio it was destroyed.

McLean started out to play a double political game in Ohio this year. He did not want the Zanesville convention to adopt a strong free silver, Bryan plank, but he was so busy corralling delegates that the committee on resolutions got away from him and put him on a plank that "emphasizes" the Chicago declaration and "demands" Bryan's renomination.

This was the first step awry in Mr. McLean's scheme, which aimed to play both the silver and the gold Democrats till "after the election." He tried to repudiate that plank in an interview in which he said state issues would cut a big figure in the campaign, but that failed. Now he has been unmasked by the Bryan leaders in Chicago and his despicable scheme to pretend friendship to Bryan while planning to stab him to death is patent to every political observer.

It remains to be seen what course the Bryan men will take to kill off the faithless multi-millionaire who seeks to destroy their favorite idol.

FUTURE OF DAWSON.

Mining Commissioner's Prediction About the Klondike City.

Major A. H. Halder, Reuter's special mining commissioner to the Klondike, returned to Vancouver the other day. He says that another year or two will make Dawson City to the Klondike what Johannesburg is to South Africa—a great stock investment center. Arrangements are now being made for the formation of a large exchange, and Major Halder says that in a few months a seat on the Dawson City Exchange will be worth as much as seats were sold for in the palmiest days of the South African excitement.

"Dawson City is the city for quick returns and large profits," says Halder. "I went in there a pessimist; but, having knelt at the sluice boxes, I am now a firm believer in these gold-fields. The operations are now being undertaken by capitalists, often South African and British, and the saving of gold along the creeks is fast losing its element of money picked up, and mining is becoming an established business. A one ounce reef in the Transvaal and a similar property in the Klondike were compared, and, though that is rich property for South Africa, the northern diggings are found to have the wonderful advantage of being 250 per cent the richer. In South Africa the area is small, while up north the number of hundreds of square miles of gold bearing country is yet unknown."

—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Blind Man's Calculation.

When Gauss became blind, his only amusement consisted in making calculations of a curious and somewhat peculiar nature. These sometimes lasted for days. When more than 80 years old, Gauss computed the amount to which $1 would grow if compounded annually at 4 per cent interest from the time of Adam to the present, assuming this to be 6,000 years. This, if in gold, would make a cubic mass so large that it would take a ray of light traveling almost 2,000 miles a second more than 1,000,000,000 years to journey alongside of it. This mental computation is so startling as to be almost beyond belief, yet the conclusions of this eminent mathematician are correct.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Poor Excuse," Etc.

"That Slims is the most resourceful fellow you ever saw. His girl has a pretty cousin stopping with her, and he told his particular that he had hired an orchestra to serenade them Thursday night. As he had done nothing of the kind and forgot all about it, and as she had made arrangements to treat the serenaders, Slims caught it hot and heavy when he next called. How do you suppose the rascal squared himself?"

"Haven't the slightest idea."

"Told the girl that the orchestra struck on him because she sang in church and didn't belong to the union." —Detroit Free Press.

General A. J. Warner, one of the most ardent admirers and enthusiastic supporters of William Jennings Bryan, said in addressing the Washington county Democratic convention at Marietta: "If John R. McLean is nominated he will lose the votes of 100,000 old line Democrats in Ohio."

General Warner speaks for a large element of his party which will not openly repudiate McLean, but will quietly vote for that clean, honorable, able statesman, Judge George K. Nash as the best means of rebuking McLeanism with its absentees, bossism and other disreputable methods.

DEFENDING THE BOERS.

A Baltimore Tourist Talks on the Transvaal Controversy.

THE WAR SENTIMENT IN LONDON.

Great Britain's Policy In Dealing With the Little Republic Declared to Be Unjust—The Heroic Spirit of the Sturdy Burghers.

The Baltimore Sun publishes an interview with Mr. O. F. Hershey, a prominent attorney of that city, who has just returned from an extended trip abroad. Discussing the Transvaal controversy, Mr. Hershey says:

"When I left London everybody expected war. The expansionists want it, and the peace party realize that Kruger is standing up for right and will not yield except to bullets. There is the same division of sentiment in England on this question that there is with us on the question of expansion. The independent press and the so called 'intellectuals'—writers, professors, scholars—are bitterly opposed to England's policy of brute force in South Africa. These are taunted as 'Little Englanders' by the commercial element, and everywhere, in the clubs and shops, one hears the brutal doctrine that might is right. England is strongest; therefore England is sovereign. She desires the Transvaal; therefore it is her duty to seize it. It is a simple doctrine, and all the stock brokers, mine promoters, patronage jobbers and Rhodesians rise up and call 'old England' blessed for espousing it."

"The Boers were the first in South Africa. Through no fault nor wish of theirs England obtained dominion over them at the Cape, and after various vicissitudes they finally, 60 years ago, penetrated into a wilderness over which England had no claim. There, after the most thrilling record of struggle and suffering known to history, they conquered the savage and the jungle and founded their little state. England had no more to do with it than the United States.

"They are now a little nation of simple folk, loving the land they won with their blood and living in peace and plenty far from the rush of cities and the madding crowd. In their veins is the same Teutonic blood that made England and the north of Europe what it is. They are well governed and ask only to be left in peace. Among them and about them are many South African English. They are bitterly opposed to England's present policy.

"But for the discovery of great mineral wealth in the Transvaal the present situation would never have arisen. The hunt for gold has brought into Johannesburg more foreigners than there are Boers in the whole state. It has brought with it all the evils and all the characteristics peculiar to large mining towns. The foreign money is everything. It buys legislators, corrupts police, opens gambling and drink places, produces discontent. It did it in our mining cities; it does it in the Transvaal. For this state of things Englishmen hold the Boers responsible and demand that they abdicate their rulership.

"The uitlanders have all the wealth made in the Transvaal; the Boers have the taxing power. The foreigners came unsolicited; they can go when they please, but they stay and cry for blood. They demand the franchise and various rights and concessions which, if granted, will enable them to wipe the Boer state from the face of the earth. According to a famous Maryland statesman, 'two outvote one,' and no one knows this better than Kruger and his followers.

"By the way, according to some newspapers, one would infer that the Boers are all a set of ignorant farmers. On the contrary, the new generation of Boers has more than its percentage of highly educated lawyers, doctors, preachers, scientists, scholars. The simple and struggling life of the fathers is telling in the splendid vitality and superiority of the sons.

"A South African whom I met at Edinburgh assured me that the level of intelligence in the Transvaal was considerably higher than it is in Yorkshire. The Boers, said he, will fight to the last ditch. They are inspired with the same spirit that sustained the Greeks at Thermopylae or the Americans at Bunker Hill. England can slaughter them, but she can never conquer them. The hour of external success in South Africa will be the hour of ultimate failure. It will be the same sort of victory Cromwell won in Ireland or Berkeley in Virginia.

"No one denies that the situation is bad; that the Boers have made many mistakes; that foreigners suffer wrongs they would not suffer at home; that taxation is notoriously unjust; that the dynamite monopoly is a moral and economic monstrosity; that there is gross corruption; that there is some disorder. But if this justifies armed intervention, then some other nations had better beware of John Bull's viruous sword. The truth is the Boers have done remarkably well under the situation."

WINDT'S NEW ROUTE.

The Proposed Trip From Paris to New York by Land.

The London Standard says: Reuter's agency is informed that Mr. Harry de Windt has completed arrangements for an expedition from Paris to New York by land. It will be remembered that the explorer attempted this journey in the reverse direction some time ago, but all his plans were frustrated owing to the ice condition in Bering straits and in the treatment which he and his servant, both of whom barely escaped with their lives and only after much suffering, received at Oumwaldjik at the hands of the Tehukchi chief, Koari. It is Mr. De Windt's intention to leave Paris next year, accompanied by his wife and his servant, Harding. The latter will travel right through, but Mrs. De Windt will, after accompanying her husband as far as Irkutsk, in eastern Siberia, return to Europe and subsequently meet Mr. De Windt at Winnipeg on the conclusion of his voyage in 1901. After leaving Paris Mr. De Windt will travel to Moscow, thence by train via Slatnousk, Omsk and Krasnoyarsk to Irkutsk, which place will be reached in September. There Mr. De Windt will remain until the beginning of November, when he will proceed by horse sleigh north to Yakutsk. There a stay of three weeks will be made to get together the dog sledges, etc., and on Jan. 10 a start will be made for East Cape, Siberia, on Bering straits, the most northeastern point of Asia. The route thither will be via Sredni-Kolynsk and Nijni-Kolynsk to the mission settlements. From Kolynsk the journey will be due east along the shores of the Arctic ocean and by way of Tchaon bay, Cape North and Wankarem to East Cape, which, it is hoped, will be reached about the end of March, 1901.

Arrangements have been made for a San Francisco whaling steamer to meet Mr. De Windt at East Cape when navigation opens at the end of June, until which time he will live with the Tehukchis at East Cape. If the ice conditions allow, the whaler will convey the explorer to Herschell island, in the Arctic ocean, near the mouth of the Mackenzie river. Entering the Mackenzie, 70 miles from Herschell island, late in July, the river will be ascended as far as Port Good Hope by open boat. At the latter place it is hoped to get a river steamer which plies twice a year between there and the lakes and to proceed via Fort Simpson, Great Slave lake and Lake Athabasca to Edmonton, Winnipeg and New York, reaching there in October, 1901.

In view of his previous experience in that region, Mr. De Windt is purposefully avoiding Oumwaldjik and the chief, Koari, East Cape, where he will remain for some time, is fully 100 miles north of Oumwaldjik, and the natives of both places are hostile to one another. It is intended to keep a sharp lookout along the Siberian coast for any traces of Andree.

Tore His Bonds In Two.

Wealthy Samuel De Voe, who lives in Spotswood, has taken a new method to guard against loss of wealth, says the New Brunswick (N. J.) correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean. Alarmed by the recent bank robberies at Perth Amboy, he has taken all his cash from a local bank and removed it to his home. Recently he called at the bank and tore in half all of his bonds. One half of each he left in the bank, and the other half he took home. Thus, he says, he is secured against loss by robbery.

HOON FAKE EXPLODED.

A Democratic Lie Nailed In a Few Hours.

HE WAS PUNISHED FOR FORGERY.

The Ohio Boy Who Wrote the False Letter Home Over Which the McLean Newspapers Have Made Such a Wild and Foolish Ado—The Facts Developed In the Case.

The first "big sensation" of the Democratic campaign has been exploded within 48 hours after its publication, and the imaginative correspondents of the McLean Enquirer and other papers are wondering where they are at. Sunday, Sept. 17, the McLean press printed at great length a story about Private Lawrence Hoon of Company K, Fourth United States infantry, whose home is in Belle Center, O.

Hoon had written home that he had been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the military prison at Manilla, the forfeiture of his pay and to be honorably discharged because he had addressed a letter to General Otis asking promotion instead of going through the usual channels.

This the Democratic organs howled was a vicious crime against Hoon, whose only defense, they declared, was not observing the army red tape.

If the story of Hoon had been true it would have been a punishment of unjustifiable severity and would have deserved condemnation. But when General Otis' side of the case was heard, and it came by cable within 48 hours after the McLean fake was published, it showed that Hoon had not been sentenced for sending a letter to Otis, but for forging the names of a sergeant, two corporals and two privates to a false recommendation of Hoon's bravery and a false recommendation for his promotion.

Forgery is always a grave crime and especially so in war. Had he been tried by any court he would have been as severely punished as he was by the courtmartial.

As a matter of fact his punishment, in view of the crime, was mild. The army regulations permit sentences up to 25 years for such a crime, and Hoon only got one year, which everybody will admit was no more than he deserved.

Thus is exploded another vicious and foolish yarn which was put forward by the McLean organs as a desperate attack on the McKinley administration. It was a silly fake at best, and the use of it by the McLean organs shows that they are very hard pressed for material with which to attempt to besmirch President McKinley's conduct of the war and the administration of the affairs of the nation by the Republican party.

AGUINALDO'S LEAGUE WITH SPAIN.

Sold Provisions to the Spanish Garrison He Professed to Besiege.

No one of our "misguided countrymen" who think Aguinaldo is a Lafayette and Washington in one, and a marvelously nice copper-colored creature, has undertaken to explain the fact that the American scouts who took the liberty during the siege of Manila to look over the country in the neighborhood and along the roads, without asking the great and good dictator where they should go, captured six "patriots" equipped with passes bearing the two honored names of the Spanish captain general of the Philippines and the gifted dictator, Aguinaldo.

How did this happy concordance occur? What was it for? A part of it was a way Aguinaldo had of making money by furnishing the Spanish garrison he professed to besiege with fresh beef. How did it happen that there was co-operation between the Spanish captain general and the dictator—the dictator who was the beggar on horseback—what is the explanation? Well, the simple truth is, Aguinaldo was a traitor to the Filipinos and to the Americans also. There is no other explanation of the case. The fellows with the double passes were taken and held in custody by an Ohio man.

RAISED $1,100 SUNDAY

Magnificent Collections at the M. P. Church.

ENTIRE COST OF REPAIRING

Wiped Out at First Services In the Remodeled Auditorium—Rev. W. H. Gladden Opens His Second Pastorate In Most Favorable Conditions.

Yesterday was a field-day at the Methodist Protestant church. For several weeks the congregation had been worshipping in the Sunday school room and yesterday morning when the large and commodious auditorium was thrown open for service it was promptly filled to its utmost capacity.

Rev. W. H. Gladden preached a brief sermon on "The Grace of Giving" choosing for his text, Luke, x 38.

Robert Burford, secretary of the quarterly conference read a statement showing the work of the repair committee, and that $1,100 was still needed to meet the expenses. The pastor appealed to the congregation for this amount, and over $800 of it was promptly raised.

At the evening service the balance was secured entire after a sermon from Psalms 122:1. A very large audience was also present at this service.

The singing throughout the day was of a high order, consisting of solos, duets and anthems. Much enthusiasm was manifested, and Reverend Gladden's pastorate, his second one at this church, is launched under the most favorable auspices.

The newly remodeled and beautified church is now one of the brightest and most attractive places of worship in the city, and the congregation is to be congratulated upon the successful and popular reopening yesterday.

JULIA DENT GRANT A PRINCESS.

One Ceremony Performed at Noon Today and Another Last Night.

NEWPORT, Sept. 25.—In accordance with the rites of the Russian orthodox church, Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Frederick Grant and granddaughter of General Ulysses S. Grant, and Prince Canacuzene, Count Speransky of Russia, were married.

Simple and impressive ceremonies were conducted by Father Hotovitsky of the Russian church, New York, in the parlor at Beauilien, the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer.

Today at noon another ceremony was performed in the All Saints' Episcopal church.

Wealthy Irwin (Pa.) Man Found.

IRWIN, Pa., Sept. 25.—One of the leading citizens of Irwin, William Jenkins, Sr., has been missing since Thursday morning. The last seen of him was about noon of that day near Paintertown. It was now thought that he wandered to some lone spot or abandoned mine and committed suicide. Later he was found ill in a clump of bushes.

EVENTS IN BRIEFS.

Irwin Fuller Bush of Joliet, Ills., was sent to Kankakee asylum pronounced hopelessly insane. Through injections of lymph from the glands of goats Bush is at home completely restored in mind. The lymph was discovered by Dr. Roberts, a physician of Greene City, Mo.

Jeremiah Sim, a maoorer, was overcome by heat while at work in the Forkhouse mill, in lower Allegheny, and had to be removed to his home, at 11 Sterling street, in a patrol wagon.

Venango county, Pa., has taken advantage of the convict labor law passed by the recent legislature, the results being highly satisfactory, and the authorities of Crawford and Mercer counties are soon to put the law in force.

Major Jones, the independent candidate for governor in Ohio, challenged George K. Nash and John R. McLean, Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for a joint debate.

Hiram Cornell and daughter, Mrs. Anderson, of Cheyenne, Wyo., arrived in the city Saturday evening and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Cornell, on Oak street. Mr. Cornell is past 90 years of age and in his early life ran a trading boat on the Ohio. He can remember well when there were only about seven houses in Liverpool.

SICK OF INDEPENDENCE.

Otis Says Many Filipinos Are Tired of It.
Encouraged by Anti-Imperialists at Home.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—General Otis, in reply to questions, said in part: "Things are going along in a very satisfactory manner. Our own forces are in good condition. We have plenty of commissary supplies here or on the way. We also have all the transportation facilities necessary either in rear or on the way. When the weather conditions permit we shall be ready to make an active campaign."

"The insurgents are having a hard time holding their forces together. They have no commissariat and no voluntary support from their own people."

"With the exception of a few robbers and adventurers these people grow sicker and more disgusted with independence every day they have it. Even the leaders of the insurgents are trying to get away. Several officers have come to Manila; others have sent their families here. Paterno (retro Paterno, the former president of the Filipino cabinet) has his entire family, numbering about 50 persons, here. Others have asked the same privilege."

"Independence was a craze with these people. They did not understand what it meant, but their worship of the idea amounted almost to fanaticism. Now that they really know what independence means it is the best object lesson they ever had, and it will not be necessary to continue it much longer to forever settle the question."

He said it was almost impossible to overestimate the encouragement, support and assistance that the actions and talk of the anti-expansionists in the United States had given the insurgents. These men, he said, put into the heads of the rebels the idea that congress would do something adverse to the continuance of the war. He (Otis) was kept well informed as to what was going on at the insurgent headquarters. He knew that the insurgent leaders had been exhorting the Filipinos to hold out until September on the plea that a special session of the American congress had been called for the purpose of granting independence to the Filipinos. When that failed the plea was changed and it was said that this action would be taken when congress met in regular session.

This idea of congressional interference with General Otis' actions or the president's plans is so widespread here that it has somewhat affected even the influential Filipinos in Manila.

"When congress meets," says General Otis, "should the president recommend non-action in the Philippine affairs, or should congress refrain from interfering, it would be a hard blow to the rebel leaders. If congress passes a resolution that there shall be no legislation concerning the Philippines until the insurrection is ended by absolute and unconditional surrender, that would be the deathblow to the insurgent cause."

The settlement everywhere depends upon the condition of affairs in Luzon. All the southern islands are awaiting the result of the fight here and will abide by it.

SIX KILLED IN A WRECK.

Denver and Rio Grande Freight and Excursion Train Collided.

DENVER, Sept. 25.—Six passengers were killed and five injured, one perhaps fatally, in a collision on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at Reno siding, near Florence. The trains in collision were the Philipp-Judson excursion from the east and the eastbound fast freight.

The Killed.

F. Salter, Pullman conductor.
Eva M. Walker, aged 12, of Westford, Mass.

Eugenia B. Judkins, aged 12, Spokane, Wash.

Addie J. Judkins, aged 10, Spokane.
George H. Judkins, aged 6, Spokane.
Wills, boy, aged 6, Los Angeles.

Injured.

Mrs. F. A. Wills, Los Angeles, maybe fatally hurt; Harry Walker, aged 19, Westford, Mass., internal injuries, not serious; Mrs. Grant Biddle, Coal Camp, Mo., internal injuries; Mrs. Ella Biddle, aged 21, Coal Camp, Mo., bruises; C. R. Cook, aged 25, Millers, Ind., bruises. The freight failed to take the track where ordered.

Fifth Ohio to Go to New York.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—Colonel Chas. X. Zimmerman of the Fifth regiment, Ohio national guard, completed arrangements for the transportation of his command to New York to take part in the Dewey parade. Nine companies of the regiment, together with all the officers and hospital corps, go to New York in special trains.
